JOURNAL OF GEMMOLOGY VOLUME XVI

Nos. 1 - 8

1978 - 1979

Names of authors are printed in capitals, pages of abstracts and book reviews in italics.

About the colour in natural citrines, 131, 205
About colourless spodumenes and colour changes in spodumenes, 125
Abrasives, Gemstones and, 550
Absorption and luminescence spectra of Nd^{3+} and Er^{3+} ions in monocrystals of $CaYAlO_4$, 131
Adventures with Virgin Valley opals, 203
Afghanistan, The pegmatites of Laghman, Nuristan, 470
Africa, Blue cuttable jeremejevite from south west, 125
—Blue-green gem dravite from east, 92
—Clear transparent cuttable rhodochrosite from Hotazell in South, 125
—Colour changing garnets from Sri Lanka and East, 198
—Jeremejevite from Cape Cross, South West, 275
—The Kalahari manganese field, 414
—Minerals from Namibia, South West, 484
—More data on violet gem scapolite, probably from, 448
—Tsumeb, 137
—Yellow cuttable scapolite with high RI and double refraction from, 271
African and Brazilian diamonds: their nature and significance, Some mineral inclusions from, 205
—source of origin, A study of emeralds from an unsubstantiated, 93
—tourmaline nomenclature, Towards an East, 207
—tourmalines and their nomenclature, East, 310
Agate, Fire, 207
—Inclusions in, and their origins and significance, 412
—A note on the structure of fire, 470
Air-boundary refractometer, The, 521
AKAMATSU (S.), et al., Differentiation of black pearls, 410
ALEKSEYEVKIY (K. M.), et al., New data on the possible primary sources of Timan diamonds, 198
ALEXANDER (A. E.), Before the gems came the crystals, 542
—The Far Eastern gem deposits and Dr Edward Gübelin, the Marco Polo of the gemmological profession, 542
—Two new mineral specimens enter the New York market, 542
Alexandrite, 56
—New data on the enrichment of gallium in, 548
Alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, The nature and colour of a new, 205
Alpine cleft-minerals of the eastern Alps of Austria, 57
Alps, Little geology of the Eastern, 57
—Minerals of the, 418
ALT (D. D.), et al., Roadside geology of northern California, 415
—et al., Roadside geology of the northern Rockies, 415
Alteration of colour of gemstones, The, 278
ALTHAUS (E.), Defects in structure, 270
—Watermelons and niggerheads, 542
ALVERSON (S.), et al., Minerals of the St. Lawrence Valley, 419
Amazonite, 129
—deposit near Koppio, 478
Amber and amber fossils, 420
—The magic of, 213
—real, Is your, 408
—Spectrographic identification of, 55
—The tears of the Heliades, 475
—Yellow, a biological rock, 472
AMELINCKX (S.), et al., Diffraction and imaging techniques in material science, 486
American, South, gemstones, Historical notes on, 208
Amethyst, axinite, hydromagnesite and other minerals from near Vitoria de Conquista, Brazil, 200
—deposit, hundred of Kelly, 134
—deposit, Maricopa County, Arizona, Mineralization of the Four Peaks, 411
—deposits in Bahia, Brazil, Brejinho's: A primitive working, 471
—from Irai, 200
—from Osilo, 132
—quartz, Phenomena associated with diffusion of trivalent iron in, 136
—Synthetic, 257
AMSTUTZ (G. C.), et al., Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some emerald, tanzanite, tsavorite and ruby mines in Tanzania and Kenya, 124

Analytical emission spectroscopy, 488
Analytical results of poly-mineralic sulfide inclusions in diamond, 203
Andalusite in granite pegmatites of the Kola peninsula, 136
ANDEEN (C.), et al., The dielectric spectrum of Europium doped CaF_2, 124
ANDERSON (B. W.), The late Robert M. Shipley, an appreciation, 285
—Some experiences with industrial diamond, 210
ANDERSON (H.), How to feel the difference between a diamond and a cubic zirconia, 542
ANDERSON (M.), Brazil—nature's mineral treasure chest, 270
ANDERSON (S. M.), Notes on the occurrence and mineralogy of emeralds in Rhodesia, 177
ANDERSSON (L. O.), The difference between Maxixe beryl and Maxixe-type beryl: an electron paramagnetic resonance investigation, 313
ANDRES-GAYON (J. I.), A new synthesis, 270
Andrews, Gordon F., an appreciation, 422
—obituary, 356
ANDRYCHUK (D.), On the light dispersion by faceted YAG gemstone, 198
Angola and Zaire, Diamond occurrences along the Kwango river in, 472
Anjanabonoina, home of the finest tourmaline, 549
ANNEGARN (H. J.), et al., Hydrogen in diamonds, 208
ANNERSTEN (H.), et al., Photochromic properties of natural sodalite, 130
Annual General Meeting, 1978, 217; 1979, 553
Another brief look at the Sancy diamond, 221
ANTHONY (J. W.), et al., Mineralogy of Arizona, 137
Apatite, 545
APPLEMAN (D. E.), et al., Liddicoatite, a new calcium end-member of the tourmaline group, 273
—et al., Liddicoatite, a new gem tourmaline species from Madagascar, 172
Aquamarine and emerald, Typical inclusions in, 274
—Kyanite and cordierite showing intervalence charge transfer, Mössbauer spectra of, 206
—morganite, 277
Aquamarines, Summary study of tubular cavities in, 57
ARBUNIÉS ANDREU (M.), Bibliographical study and analysis of work on the relationship between colour and chemical composition of garnets appearing in the last 10 years, 124
—Physical and optical study of the gem varieties of garnet, 124
AREM (J. E.), Colour encyclopedia of gemstones, 212
Argentine fluorite, Contribution to the gemological analyses of, 202
Arizona: heartland of gems, 55
Artificial opal, 547
Artificial zirconium oxide, a new diamond substitute, 56
Artist's colour and jewel; azure stone or lapis lazuli, 211
ASSCHER (E.), Fancy colour diamonds, 210
Atlas of crystal stereograms, 215
Attempt to establish a colour range for garnet from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, An, 278
Australia, Amazonite deposit near Koppio, 478
—The colour of nephrite jade from Cowell, 277
—Commercial gemstone production in, 471
—Economic geology of the Anakie sapphire mining district, Queensland, 318
—The Little River Sapphire lease, 411
—No country for tourmaline, 544
—Notes on sapphires from stream gravels at Frazer's Creek in Glen Innes area, N.S.W., 412
—On the genesis of volcanic opal at Houghlahan's Creek near Teven Tintenbar, N.S.W., 478
—Opal occurrences near Granite Downs Homestead, 133
—The Ord Range tiger-eye deposits, 199
—The refractory metamorphic gemstones of, 485
—Some exotic minerals of Western Tasmania, 270
—Some north Queensland gem fields visited, 207
—Transparent pink bustamite from, 543
Australian blue sapphires, Heat treatment of, 414
—gemstones, Guide to, 142
—opals, 132
—opals, A field guide to, 215

—precious opal, 141
—strike, Total of 173 diamonds so far in CRA's, 413
Austria, The alpine cleft-minerals of the eastern Alps of, 57
—Dravite from the Drava, 546
—The emerald porphyroblasts in the penninic rocks of the central Tauern Window, 276
—Mineral sources, Styria and Carinthia, 143
—Mineral sources, Tyrol, Salzburg, South Tyrol, 142
—Mineral sources, Upper and Lower Austria and Burgenland, 143
—Mineralogical pocket-book for the Salzburg area, 420
—A notable scheelite discovery in the Rauris, Salzburg, 210
—Phenakites in gem quality from the Habach Valley, Salzburg, 548
—Vienna Natural History Museum, 149
—Where you can find green stones. Two European emerald locations, 207
Automatic crystal-pulling equipment for Czochralski growth, 205
Autunite, Random layer of, by grinding, 127
Axinite, hydromagnesite, amethyst and other minerals from near Vitória de Conquista, Brazil, 200
AYEROV (G. D.), et al., Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite opal, 542
Azurite, Royal gem, 270

BABESHKIN (A. M.), et al., Distribution of iron ions in the structure of tourmalines according to Mössbauer spectroscopic data, 474
BAGSHAW (A. N.), Diverse structures based on the Fd3m space group, 198
BAKER (W. E.), Some exotic minerals of Western Tasmania, 270
BAKUMENKO (I. T.), et al., Crystal line inclusions with octahedral faces in diamonds, 209
BALAKIREV (V. G.), et al., Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite opal, 542
BALDOCK (J. W.), et al., Resources inventory of Botswana: metallic minerals, mineral fuels and diamonds, 486
BALL (R. A.), Identification of synthetic opal, a review, 270
—Imitation opal, 270
—Natural or synthetic opal, 270
—A note on the structure of fire agate, 470
—et al., Notes on sapphires from stream gravels at Frazer's Creek in Glen Innes area, 412
—et al., On the genesis of volcanic opal at Houghlahan's Creek near Teven-Tintenbar, N.S.W., 478
BANCROFT (P.), Benitoite from California, U.S.A., 470
—Fluorite, 470
—A new 'Lady' is born, 198
—Royal gem azurite, 270
BANERJEE (A.), et al., Sogdianite—a new gem material? 408
BANK (H.), Cuttable yellow-brown celestine, 125
—Gemstones from Kenya, 543
—Orange-yellow aventurized scapolites, 271
—Rubies from Alipur in Mysore, India, 543
—Sinhalite and diopside from Ceylon, 124
—Synthetic corundums produced by the melt-diffusion method (rubies and sapphires according to Chatham), 124
—Topaz determined as danburite, 271
—Transparent cuttable Hauynite from the Eifel, 198
—Transparent cuttable light yellow to brown enstatites from Tanzania, 198
—Yellow cuttable scapolite with high RI and double refraction from East Africa, 271
—et al., About colourless spodumenes and colour changes in spodumenes, 125
—et al., Blue cuttable jeremejevite from South West Africa, 125
—et al., Bluish-green zoisite from Merelani in Tanzania, 481, 512
—et al., Blue transparent dumortierite from Brazil, 199
—et al., Ceruleite—a new gemstone, 86
—et al., Chrome-containing violet and orange-coloured topazes, a comparison, 134
—et al., Clear transparent cuttable rhodochrosite from Hotazell in South Africa, 125
—et al., Colour changing garnets from East Africa and Sri Lanka, 198
—et al., Colourless and blue-violet cuttable herderite from Brazil, 125
—et al., Crystals with exceptional inclusions—tourmaline from Tanzania and beryl from Brazil, 135
—et al., East African tourmalines and their nomenclature, 310
—et al., Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some emerald, tanzanite, tsavorite and ruby mines in Tanzania and Kenya, 124

—et al., New data on the enrichment of gallium in alexandrite, 548
—et al., On the genesis and origin of rubies, 199
—et al., Orange-coloured topaz crystals from Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 206
—et al., Purple topaz from Pakistan, 206
—et al., Sillimanite cabochons in mixed parcel from Ceylon, 543
—et al., Sogdianite—a new gem material? 408
—et al., Towards an East African tourmaline nomenclature, 207
—et al., Transparent, blue-green kornerupines from Kenya and Tanzania, 208, 455
—et al., Transparent, blue-red changing corundum from Columbia, 408
—et al., Transparent pink bustamite from Australia, 543
—et al., Treated yellow and red-brown topazes and their identification, 134
BARIAND (P.), et al., Minerals, their occurrences and associations, 487
—et al., Not only lapis, 543
—et al., The pegmatites of Laghman, Nuristan, Afghanistan, 470
BARIC (L.), In white marble, 125
BARINSKY (R. L.), et al., Metamict transformations in some niobates and zircons according to x-ray absorption spectra, 199
Barite crystals from Gage County, Nebraska, Odell diamonds, 276
BARRINGTON (E. N.), et al., Electron spin resonance of emeralds, 275
BARSANOV (G. P.), et al., Jasper minerals in the U. S. S. R., 415
Basic knowledge on studies of fluid inclusions in minerals, 483
BASTOS (F. M.), Occurrence of cordierite in the state of Minas Gerais, Brazil, 271
BAUMGÄRTEL (R.), et al., Native gemstones, 142
BECKER (G.), et al., Blue cuttable jeremejevite from South West Africa, 125
—et al., Clear transparent cuttable rhodochrosite from Hotazell in South Africa, 125
—et al., Colourless and blue-violet cuttable herderite from Brazil, 125
BECKMAN (O.), et al., Photochromic properties of natural sodalite, 130
BEDNORZ (J. G.), et al., Flame-fusion growth of $SrTiO_3$, 199
Before the gems came the crystals, 542
Belgium, Documentation on synthetic crystals, 215
Benitoite from California, U. S. A., 470
—gem mine, Minerals of the, 279
—Refinement of the crystal structure of, 472
BERDESINSKI (W.), et al., Transparent pink bustamite from Australia, 543
—et al., Treated yellow and red-brown topazes and their identification, 134
Bergell, Mineral sources in, 55
BERGER (J.), Rich cliffs, 544
BERKOWITZ (R.), Gem characterized by refractive index, 125
—Report on microscopes, 271
Beryl, Channel constituents in, 474
—Framework of chains and layers, 279
—from Brazil and tourmaline from Tanzania, Crystals with exceptional inclusions, 135
—Gemmological study of an original maxixe, 135
—Hunting the hexagons: in search of Georgia, 203
—maxixe and maxixe-type beryl, The difference between: an electron paramagnetic resonance investigation, 313
—Mineralogical study of star-beryl and its inclusions, 545
—Occurrence of, 274
—topaz and quartz, Irradiation colours in, 205
—and topaz, The diagnostic inclusions of, 135
Beryllium pegmatite at Tittling in the Bayerischen Wald, The, 275
Beryls, Refractive indices and specific gravities of, 413
Best of the San Diego County, The, 275
BETTETINI (E.), In the heart of gemstones, 470
BEYER (H.), Choice pieces on the theme of 'silicic acid', 544
—On the influence of inclusions on the form, habit, structure, twinning and aggregate-forming properties of crystals, 544
BIANCONI (F.), Campolungo, Ticino, 125
BIBBY (D. M.), Zonal distribution of impurities in diamond, 544
Bibliographical study and analysis of work on the relationship between colour and chemical composition of garnets appearing in the last 10 years, 124
BIDEAUX (R. A.), et al., Mineralogy of Arizona, 137

Big sky sapphire, The, 485
BILL (H.), et al., Color centers, associated rare-earth ions and the origin of coloration in natural fluorites, 408
BIRCH (W. D.), No country for tourmaline? 544
Birthstones for October, opal and tourmaline, 411
Black coral—true or false, 126
Black elbaite from Corrego do Urucum, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 480
Black opal, 134
BLAKEY (G. G.), The diamond, 138
BLANKENBURG (H.-J.), et al., Rough quartz, 415
BLANZAT (B.), et al., Crystallographic and spectroscopic studies of europium trivalent doped garnet type germanates, 134
BLAZEK (M. C.), Is your amber real? 408
BLEAHU (M.), et al., Crystals of Romania, 419
BLOCKLEY (J. G.), The Ord Range tiger-eye deposits, 199
BLOUNT (A.), et al., Twinning in minerals, 199
Blue colour of sodalite, The, 452
Blue cuttable jeremejevite from South West Africa, 125
Blue-green gem dravite from East Africa, 92
Blue-green kornerupines from Kenya and Tanzania, 208
Blue John, Derbyshire's unique gem, 545
Blue pectolite from Santo Domingo, 93
Blue sapphire and rubies—precious commodities of investment, 274
Blue transparent dumortierite from Brazil, 199
Bluish-green zoisite from Merelani in Tanzania, 481, 512
BOGEL (H.), et al., Little geology of the Eastern Alps, 57
Bolivia, Phosphophyllite from, 91
BORNMANN (S.), et al., Preparation of single crystal garnet substrates, 199
BOSCARDIN (M.), et al., The emeralds of Val Vigezzo, Ossola, 126
—et al., Zircon from Vicentino, 200
BOSCH FIGUEROA (J. M.), et al., Diamonds, 487
BOSSHART (G.), Cubic stabilized zircon oxides, 200
—Cubic stabilized zirconias, 244; Addenda to, 431
BOTKUNOV (A. I.), et al., Crystal line inclusions with octahedral faces in diamonds, 209
Botswana elevation in diamond league, 207
—Resources inventory of: metallic minerals, mineral fuels and diamonds, 486
BRANSON (O. T.), Turquoise, the gem of the centuries, 57
BRAZEAU (E. G.) & (L. S.), Standard mineralogical catalogue, mid 1977 to mid 1978, 280
Brazil, Amethyst from Irai, 200
—Axinite, hydromagnesite, amethyst and other minerals form near Vitória de Conquista, 200
—beryl from, and tourmaline from Tanzania, Crystals with exceptional inclusions, 135
—Black elbaite from Corrego do Urucum, Minas Gerais, 480
—Blue transparent dumortierite from, 199
—Colourless and blue-violet cuttable herderite from, 125
—Fever at Governador Valadares, Minas Gerais, 476
—Garnets from Poaia, 201
—Hydroxyl-herderite from, and a guide to species nomenclature for the herderite/hydroxyl-herderite series, 545
—The Limoeiro pegmatite and its minerals, 471
—1976—Minas Gerais, 127
—nature's mineral treasure chest, 270
—Not only amethyst comes from the paradise gemstones, 209
—Occurrence of cordierite in the state of Minas Gerais, 271
—Orange-coloured topaz crystals from Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais, 206
—paradise of gems, 210
—Petalite from Itinga, Minas Gerais, 408
—A primitive working: Brejinho's amethyst deposits in Bahia, 471
—Rare-element minerals from the pegmatite district of São João del Rei, Minas Gerais, 473
—Rose quartz-bearing pegmatite at Alto Feio, 471
—Tell-tale inclusions in a phenakite from, 357
Brazilian and African diamonds: their nature and significance, Some mineral inclusions from, 205
—diamonds, Olivine epitaxy in, 128
Brief notes on some new synthetics, 257
British fluorites from the mineral collection of the British Museum

(Natural History), Macroscopic inclusions of fluid in, 480
BROUGHTON (P. L.), Economic geology of the Anakie sapphire mining district, Queensland, 318
BROWN (G.), Black coral—true of false, 126
—The burinut, 271
—Commercial gemstones production in Australia, 471
—The diagnostic radiograph structure of pearls, 501
—Gemmological study group report on a new opal imitation, 544
—The identification of some rare organic materials, 470
—Kauri gum, 470
—et al., The structural characteristics of elephant ivory, 126
—et al., The structural characteristics of various ivories, 126
BRUDER (J.), et al., Random layer structure of autunite by grinding, 127
BRUTON (E.), Diamonds, 416
BUERGER (M. J.), et al., The crystal structure of rhodizite, 484
BUKANOV (V. V.), et al., The colour of gem spinels from the Kukhilal deposit, 408
BUKIN (G. V.), et al., Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural emeralds, 476
Bulletin of prices, fine minerals and metallurgical products, 486
Burinut, The, 271
Burma, Jadeite, green treasure of, 274
BURNS (R. G.), et al., Mössbauer spectra of kyanite, aquamarine and cordierite showing intervalence charge transfer, 206
—et al., Shedding light on the colour of gems and minerals, 132
Bustamite from Australia, Transparent pink, 543
BUTT (R. A.), et al., Australian precious opal, 141

CALAS (G.), Chromium and colour in minerals: a study for students, 271
—et al., Color centres, associated rare-earth ions and the origin of coloration in natural fluorites, 408
California jade; a collection of reprints 127
CAMPBELL (I. C. C.), Letter to the editor, 218
—A study of emeralds from an unsubstantiated African source of origin, 93
Campolungo, Ticino, 125
Canada, The Jeffrey Mine, Asbestos, Quebec, 545
—The Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, Ontario, 208
—Secretary's visit to, 283
CANNON (B.), Minerals of Washington, 551
CANNON (M. C.), Diamond discovered along Colorado-Wyoming border, 200
CASSEDANNE (J.), A primitive working: Brejinho's amethyst deposits in Bahia, Brazil, 471
CASSEDANNE (J.-P.), CASSEDANNE (J.-O.), Amethyst from Irai, 200
—Axinite, hydromagnesite, amethyst and other minerals from near Vitória de Conquista, Brazil, 200
—Diamonds from Guaniamo, Venezuela, 471
—Garnets from Poaia, Brazil 201
—The Limoeiro pegmatite and its minerals 471
—Petalite from Itinga, Minas Gerais, 408
—Rose quartz-bearing pegmatite at Alto Feio, 471
Cathodoluminescence of gem materials, 129
CECCUZZI (B.), Considerations on the use of the refractometer, 471
—The direct measurement method of obtaining refractive index, 127
CECH (F.), et al., Sodium-beryllium-bearing cordierite from Haddam, Connecticut, U.S.A., 480
Celestine, Cuttable yellow-brown, 125
Ceruleite—a new gemstone, 86
CESBRON (F.), et al., Minerals, their occurrences and associations, 487
Cesium aluminosilicate, Crystal synthesis of a new, 131
CHAKRABORTY (D.), et al., Infrared studies of x-ray irradiated and heat treated synthetic quartz single crystals, 471
Chalcedony and celandonite from Conejos County, Colorado, A turquoise-like mixture of, 132
Chance discovery, 274
Changes of the concept of gemstones in future, 202
Channel constituents in beryl, 474
Characteristics of natural diamond and their interpretation, The, 480
Charoite, The nature and colour of a new alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, 206
—a new mineral and jewellery stone,

481
—a spectacular new cutting material, 474
—a spectacular new purple mineral, 1
CHEN (C.-C.), et al., A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, 549
CHERMETTE (A.), Brazil 1976—Minas Gerais, 127
—Good luck or the story of a placer, 272
CHESTERMAN (C. W.), California jade; a collection of reprints, 127
CHIKAYAMA (A.), Natural and synthetic gemstones newly appeared after the 2nd World War, 409
Choice pieces on the theme of 'silicic acid', 544
Chrome containing violet and orange-coloured topazes, a comparison, 134
Chrome pyrope from the Alnö complex, 131
Chromium, absorption spectrum in topaz, The, 206
—and colour in minerals: a study for students, 271
—in dravite, 129
—iron and titanium: cause of the colour of ruby and sapphire, 135
—minerals, Color and the, 275
Chrysoberyl, An unusual, 229
Citrines, About the causes of colour in natural, 131
—Note on 'About the causes of colour in natural', 205
CLARK (A. M.), et al., The infrared spectrum of painite, 480
Clear transparent cuttable rhodochrosite from Hotazell in South Africa, 125
COCKAYNE (B.), The melt growth of oxide and related single crystals, 272
Coesite, garnet and omphacite inclusions in Yakut diamonds, first finding of coesite paragenesis, 209
Collector's library, The, 280
COLLONGUES (R.), et al., Growth from skull melting of zirconia rare-earth oxide crystals, 276
Colombia, The emerald localities of, 546
—Geology and geochemical expression of the Gachala emerald district, 472
Color centres, associated rare-earth ions and the origin of coloration in natural fluorites, 408
Color and the chromium minerals, 275
Color of gems and minerals, Shedding light on the, 132
Colorimetry, Gemmological, 259
Colour in minerals, The origins of, 412
Colour, causes of colour and colour changes in topazes, 277
Colour changing garnets from East Africa and Sri Lanka, 198
Colour classification of sapphires from Sri Lanka, 489
Colour encyclopedia of gemstones, 212
Colour investigation of topaz, 206, 278
Colour, A note on, 311
Colour of gem spinels from Kukhilal deposit, The, 408
Colour of gemstones, The alteration of, 278
Colour of nephrite jade from Cowell, The, 277
Colour, On, 121
Colouration of Mt Surprise topaz by gamma irradiation, The, 547
Colouring agent in natural silicates and oxides, Vanadium II as a; a contribution to the crystal chemistry of vanadium, 280
Colourless and blue-violet cuttable herderite from Brazil, 125
Columnar mechanism of growth of natural diamond crystals of cubic habit, 131
Comment on 'Water as a gemological tool', 412
Commercial gemstone production in Australia, 471
Comparison between natural, Verneuil and a new flux-melt grown ruby, 209
Composition of gem scapolites, On the, 4
Considerations on the use of the refractometer, 471
Contact angle of water on gems, The, 276
Contribution to the gemological analyses of Argentine fluorite, 202
COOPER (S. B. Nikon), Opal—the unlucky 'lucky' stone, 458
Copper bearing aventurine zeolite: an occurrence in India, 186
Coral, Black, true or false, 126
—Diamonds and, 491
Cordierite cat's-eyes, probably from India, 210
Cordierite from Haddam, Connecticut, U.S.A., Sodium-beryllium-bearing, 480
—Hydrous gem magnesian, with inclusions of hydroxyapatite, dolomite and rutile, 474
—in the state of Minas Gerais, Brazil, Occurrence of, 271
—kyanite and aquamarine showing intervalence charge transfer,

Mössbauer spectra of, 206
Cornelian in coloured sandstones and their druses, On the formation of, 548
Corundum, Crazy, 130
—from Columbia, Transparent blue-red changing, 408
—single crystals from Na_3AlF_6-xLi_3AlF_6 system fluxes, Growth of, 210
Corundums, Synthetic, produced by the melt-diffusion method (rubies and sapphires according to Chatham), 124
Council Meetings: 59, 146, 283, 339, 344, 428
Coupled substitution of gallium by magnesium and zirconium in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet, 276
COZAR (J. S.), Study of the proportions of the cut of diamond, 272
CRAIG (J. R.), et al., Mineral chemistry of metal sulfides, 421
Crazy corundum, 130
Critical examination of synthetic turquoise, A, 136
CROWNINGSHIELD (R.), Developments and highlights at GIA's Lab in New York, 127, 201, 272
—Diamond quality grading in the U.S.A., 210
Crystal form and structure, 140
—growth, First European Conference on, Zürich, 1976, 215
—growth information, 215
—growth of bismuth titanates and titanium oxide from melts in the system Bi_2O_3-V_2O_5-TiO_2, 208
—growth techniques, An insight into, 11
—growth: theory and techniques, 417
—imperfections in natural gem diamonds, 547
—line inclusions with octahedral faces in diamonds, 209
—stereograms, Atlas of, 215
—structure of rhodizite, The, 484
—structures, 277
—synthesis of a new cesium aluminosilicate, 131
—synthesis of a new olivine, 131
Crystalline world of geology, The, 554
Crystallographic and spectroscopic studies of europium trivalent doped garnet type germanates, 134
Crystals for magnetic applications, 419
—Luminescent, 55
—of Romania, 419
—with exceptional inclusions—tourmaline from Tanzania and beryl from Brazil, 135
Cubic stabilized zirconias, 244, 431
—stabilized zircon oxides, 200
—zirconia, 413
—zirconia, the latest diamond imitation and skull melting, 133
Current topics in materials science, 419
Cuttable yellow-brown celestine, 125
Czochralski growth, Automatic crystal-pulling equipment for, 205
—growth of $LiBO_2$ and $Li_2B_4O_7$, The, 202

DANBOM (E. A.), Some 'new' angles on faceting, 472
Danburite, Topaz determined as, 271
DARRAGH (P. J.), et al., Slocum stone, 273
—et al., Synthetic opals, 272
DAVIDENKO (I. V.), et al., Andalusite in granite pegmatites of the Kola peninsula, 136
DAVIES (G.), The H3 centre, 202
De Beers' new diamond mine in commission, 409
DE CAMARGO (W. G. R.), et al., New diagrams for physical determination of garnets, 128
—et al., Olivine epitaxy in Brazilian diamonds, 128
—et al., Random layer structure of autunite by grinding, 127
DEER (W. A.), et al., Rock-forming minerals, 487
Defects in structure, 270
DE GOER (A. M.), et al., A study of valency changes of vanadium ions in Al_2O_3 by γ-irradiation, 136
DE GROOT (G. E.), Rijksmuseum van Geologie en Mineralogie, 1878-1978, a retrospect, 545
Demantoid from the Urals and its colour, On, 548
DENIS (J.-P.), et al., Crystallographic and spectroscopic studies of europium trivalent doped garnet type germanates, 134
Developments and highlights at GIA's Lab in New York, 127, 201, 272
Developments and highlights at GIA's Lab in Santa Monica, 131, 204
DEVISMES (N.), et al., A study of valency changes of vanadium ions in Al_2O_3 byy-irradiation, 136
DHAMELINCOURT (P.), et al., The laser molecular microprobe and its application to mineralogy and gemmology, 202
Diagnosis of zircons, The, 279
Diagnostic inclusions of beryl and topaz, The, 135
Diagnostic inclusions of quartz, The,

480
Diagnostic radiograph structure of pearls, The, 501
Diamond, The, 138
—Analytical results of poly-mineralic sulfide inclusions in, 203
—Another brief look at the Sancy, 221
—The characteristic of natural, and their interpretation, 480
—Crystal imperfections in natural gem, 547
—crystals of cubic habit, Columnar mechanism of growth of natural, 131
—and a cubic zirconia, How to feel the difference between, 542
—and diamond substitutes, Laser reflection patterns in, 477
—dictionary, The, 213
—discovered along Colorado-Wyoming border, 200
—Distinguishing, from cubic zirconia, 548
—Eye and the Lustermeter: a review, The, 239
—Fancy colour, 210
—finds, On evaluating the reliability of certain, 483
—Fingerprint of, 410
—The growth condition of a natural, 476
—The history and present status of synthetic diamond, 478
—Hydrogen impurity in natural gem, 203
—Hydrogen in, 208
—imitation, Djevalite, a new, 203
—imitation and skull melting, Cubic zirconia, the latest, 133
—in India, 413
—league, Botswana elevation in, 207
—Lectures (XVI International Conference, the Netherlands, 1977), 210
—locations in the Ivory Coast, 211
—mine in commission, De Beers' new, 409
—notes, 370
—occurrences along the Kwango river in Angola and Zaire, 472
—pedigrees, Doubt thrown on, 279
—pen, The new gem, 482
—pen, Report on the gem, 465
—potential, Toward a theory of the prediction of bedrock, 477
—probe, A test of the Ceres, 478
—probes secrets of Venus, 550
—quality grading in the U.S.A., 210
—Some experiences with industrial, 210
—The Star of Independence, 90
—Study of the proportions of the cut of, 272
—substitute, A new—artificial zirconium oxide, 56
—Synthesis of, with temperatures under 1300°C and pressure under one atmosphere, 128
—tools in the lapidary arts, 474
—Training Classes (India), 149
—and the U.S.S.R., 482
—Zonal distribution of impurities in, 544
Diamonds, 416, 487
—anisotropic hardness taking as an example a scratch tool, Making use of, 482
—Coesite, garnet and omphacite inclusions in Yakut, 209
—and coral, 491
—Crystals line inclusions with octahedral faces in, 209
—EPR studies of irradiated, 204
—fragments of eternity, 547
—from Guaniamo, Venezuela, 471
—Gemstones and abrasives, 550
—Indonesian: notes of a visit, 208
—Investigating the visible spectra of coloured, 433
—love and compatibility, 420
—metallic minerals, mineral fuels and: Resources inventory of Botswana, 486
—Nature and significance of mineral inclusions in natural, 409
—New data on the possible primary sources of Timan, 198
—of very high lattice perfection, Optical methods to select, 485
—Olivine epitaxy in Brazilian, 128
—Remarks on the classification of natural polycrystalline, 550
—so far in CRA's Australian strike, Total of 173, 413
—Stacking faults in natural, 209
—Water melon, 474
Dichroscope, polariscope, crystal-refractometer—three simplified, i.e. improved, instruments for gem identification, 136
Did Professor Nacken ever grow hydrothermal emerald? 36
DIEHL (R.), New additions to the subject of synthetic emerald: visit to Pierre Gilson, 128
—Synthesis of diamond with temperatures under 1300°C and pressure under one atmosphere, 128
—Synthetic products with garnet structure, 273
Dielectric spectrum of Europium doped CaF_2, The, 124
Difference between Maxixe beryl and

Maxixe-type beryl: an electron paramagnetic resonance investigation, The, 313
Differentiation of black pearls, 410
Diffraction and imaging techniques in material science, 486
DILLMAN (R.), Sogdianite, 514, 545
Diopside 'jade' from the Eel River, Mendocino County, California, 485
—and sinhalite from Ceylon, 124
Dioptase, A refinement of the structure of, 207
Direct measurement method of obtaining refractive index, The, 127
Dispersion of cut stones, Measuring, 136
Distinguishing diamond from cubic zirconia, 548
Distribution of iron ions in the structure of tourmalines according to Mössbauer spectroscopic data, 474
Diverse structures based on the Fd3m space group, 198
Djevalite, a new diamond imitation, 203
Documentation on synthetic crystals, Belgium, Spain, France, Italy, 215
Dolomite and quartz from the evaporitic Trias of northern Tunisia, Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in, 479
Dominican Republic, Blue pectolite from Santo Domingo, 93
DOS SANTOS (A.), et al., Sillimanite cabochons in mixed parcel from Ceylon, 543
Doubt thrown on diamond pedigrees, 279
Dravite, Chromium in, 129
—from the Drava, 546
—from East Africa, Blue-green gem, 92
DRITS (V. A.), et al., Charoite, a new mineral and jewellery stone, 481
Dumortierite from Brazil, Blue transparent, 199
DUNIN-BARKOVSKII (R. L.), et al., The third type of citrine colour of natural quartz, 481
DUNN (P. J.), Chromium in dravite, 129
—Gem peridot and enstatite with spinel inclusions from Chihuahua, Mexico, 236
—Gemmological notes, 90
—Observations on the Slocum stone, 128
—et al., Hydroxyl-herderite from Brazil and a guide to species nomenclature for the herderite/hydroxyl-herderite series, 545
—et al., The Kalahari manganese field, 414
—et al., Liddicoatite, a new calcium end-member of the tourmaline group, 273
—et al., Liddicoatite, a new gem tourmaline species from Madagascar, 172
—et al., On the composition of gem scapolites, 4

EPR studies of irradiated diamonds, 204
East African tourmalines and their nomenclature, 310
Economic geology of the Anakie sapphire mining district, Queensland, 318
Egypt, ancient, to the present day, Finger rings from, 421
Elbaite from Corrego do Urucum, Minas Gerais, Brazil, Black, 480
Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite opal, 542
Electron spin resonance of emeralds, 275
Electron spin resonance of trivalent chromium in forsterite, 207
Elegant structure of tourmaline, The, 549
EMBREY (P.), et al., Minerals of the Binntal, 420
Emerald and aquamarine, Typical inclusions in, 274
—Did Professor Nacken ever grow hydrothermal, 36
—district, Columbia, Geology and geochemical expression of the Gachalá, 472
—from Columbia, a soudé, 204
—locations, two European. Where you can find green stones, 207
—localities of Colombia, The, 546
—mines, Pitiable conditions of Rajasthan, 415
—New additions to the subject of synthetic: a visit to Pierre Gilson, 128
—Regency: a new synthetic from the U.S.A., 463
—porphyroblasts in the penninic rocks of the central Tauern Window, The, 276
—synthesis of, 278
—tanzanite, tsavorite and ruby mines in Tanzania and Kenya, Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some, 124
Emeralds, Electron spin resonance of, 275
—from an unsubstantiated African source of origin, A study of, 93
—in Rhodesia, Notes on the occurrence and mineralogy of, 177

—of Val Vigezzo, Ossola, The, 126
—Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural, 476
—Specific gravity, refractive indices and depth of formation of natural. 413
Emission spectroscopy, Analytical, 488
Encyclopedia of gemstones, Colour, 212
—of the mineral kingdom, The illustrated, 281
Enstatite with spinel inclusions from Chihuahua, Mexico, Gem peridot and, 236
Enstatites from Tanzania, Transparent cuttable light yellow to brown, 198
Epidote the gemstone 129
EPPLER (W. F.), Amazonite 129
ESCOBAR (R.), Geology and geochemical expression of the Gachalá emerald district, Colombia 472
Ethylene dibromide—a warning, 429
Euclase, Sapphire blue, a stone for collectors 475
Europe, Eastern, A tour of mineral sites in 479
EVANS (J.), Magical jewels of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance 138
Evidence for absorption by exchange-coupled Fe^{2}-Fe^{3} pairs in the near infrared spectra of minerals 483
Examinations, Gem Diamond: 1977, 63; 1978, 346
—in Gemmology: 1977, 64; 1978, 347
Experimental Brewster-angle refractometer, An, 537
EYSEL (H. H.), et al., The chromium absorption spectrum in topaz, 206

Face of minerals and gemstones, The, 488
Faceting for amateurs, 141
Faceting, Some 'new' angles on,472
FAHEY (R. E.), et al., Growth of Ni-doped MgF_2 crystals in self-sealing graphite crucibles, 278
FALTER (M.), et al., Raster electron microscopic examination of synthetic opal, 472
Far Eastern gem deposits and Dr Edward Gübelin the Marco Polo of the gemmological profession, 542
FARINA (M. S.), Note on a pearl formed in the waters of the river Po, 202
FARN (A. E.), Imitation opal—Slocum stone, 295
—Letter to the Editor, 218
—Notes from the Laboratory 229, 365
Fashioning of gemstones up to the beginning of the 20th century, 548
Feldspar family, 208
Fellowship badge, 75
Fever at Governador Valadares, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 476
Field guide to Australian opals, A, 215
Field guide, Mineral collector's, 491
Field guide to topaz and associated minerals of Topaz Mountain, Utah,, 419
Field trips in the Baltimore, Maryland, area,, 56
FIEREMANS (C.), Diamond occurrences along the Kwango river in Angola and Zaire, 472
FILHO (J. B. de Madureira), et al., New diagrams for physical determination of garnets, 128
FINDLAY (K. W.), Report from Thailand, 1978, 516
—A visit to Sri Lanka, Taiwan and Thailand, 191
Fingerprint of diamond, 410
Fire agate, 207, 470
Fire forever, 206
First European Conference on Crystal Growth, Zürich, 1976,, 215
FISCHER (J. C.), Yellow amber—a biological rock, 472
FISCHER (K.), Epidote the gemstone, 129
—Refinement of the crystal structure of benitoite,, 472
—Torpedos and cat's-eyes, 545
—Two-fold hardness, origin and working of kyanite, 129
Fiskenässet: ruby location in Greenland, 546
Flame-fusion growth of $SrTiO_3$, 199
FLAMINI (A.), et al., Characterization of two samples of Taiwan's jade, 153
FLISIKOWSKI (P.), et al., Automatic crystal-pulling equipment for Czochralski growth, 205
Fluorite, 470
—Contribution to the gemological analyses of Argentine, 202
Fluorites, Color centers, associated rare-earth ions and the origin of coloration in natural, 408
—from the mineral collection of the British Museum (Natural History), Macroscopic inclusions of fluid in British, 480
Flux growth and surface observations of ZrO_2 single crystals, 473
FONTANELLA (J.), et al., The dielectric spectrum of Europium doped CaF_2, 124

FOORD (E. E.), The Himalaya dike system, Mesa Grande district, San Diego County, California, 273
FORD (T. D.), Blue John—Derbyshire's unique gem, 545
Forsterite, Electron spin resonance of trivalent chromium in, 207
Fracture of Jade, The, 207
Framework of chains and layers, 279
France, Documentation on synthetic crystals, 215
—Mineralogical inventory of, 142
FRANCESCONI (R.), et al., Rare-element minerals from the pegmatite district of São João del Rei, Minas Gerais, 473
FRIDJHON (H.), De Beers' new diamond mine in commission, 409
From the testing practice, 274
FRÜHAUF (V.), et al., The fracture of jade, 207
FRUTH (L.), Mineral sources, Tyrol, Salzburg, South Tyrol, 142
Frutos Martinez (M.), General characteristics of transition elements, 473
FUCHS (B.), et al., On demantoid from the Urals and its colour, 548
FUENTES (J. C.), et al., Contribution to the gemological analyses of Argentine fluorite,, 202
FUJIKI (Y.), Growth of ZrO_2 single crystals using V_2O_5-NaF flux, 473
—et al., Flux growth and surface observations of ZrO_2 single crystals, 473
—et al., Growth of ZrO_2 crystals by localized cooling method using $Na_2B_4O_7$-KF flux, 473
—et al., Growth process of baddeleyite (ZrO_2) in PbF_2 flux, 473
—et al., Preparation of baddeleyite (monoclinic ZrO_2) using PbF_2 flux, 473
FUJISAKI (Y.), Changes of the concept of gemstones in future, 202
—Identification of gemstones by means of x-ray transmission (x-radiography), 409
FUKAZAWA (T.), et al., Growth striae in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, 56
FUMEY (P.), Apatite, 545
FURBISH (W. J.), et al., Hayalite from the Spruce Pine district, North Carolina, 549
Further developments in synthetic materials, 30

GAAL (R. A. P.), Cathodoluminescence of gem materials, 129
—The diamond dictionary, 213
Gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, Growth striae in single crystals of, 56
Gadolinium gallium garnet, Coupled substitution of gallium by magnesium and zirconium in single crystals of, 276
GALAS (C. A.), Thomas Range, Utah, U.S.A., 274
GALIA (W.), Chance discovery, 274
Garnet from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, An attempt to establish a colour range for, 278
—Physical and optical study of the gem varieties of, 124
—substrates, Preparation of single crystal, 199
—suite from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, Studies of a gem, 161
—type germanates, Crystallographic and spectroscopic studies of europium trivalent doped, 134
Garnets appearing in the last 10 years, Bibliographical study and analysis of work on the relationship between colour and chemical composition of, 124
—from East Africa and Sri Lanka, Colour changing, 198
—from Poaia, Brazil, 201
—New diagrams for physical determination of, 128
GARRETT (J. D.), et al., The Czochralski growth of $LiBO_2$ and $Li_2B_4O_7$, 202
GASKIN (A. J.), et al., Synthetic opals, 272
GEFFROY (J.), et al., Minerals, their occurrences and associations, 487
Gem characterized by refractive index, 125
Gem Craft World Expo, 72
Gem Diamond Examinations: 1977, 63; 1978, 346
Gem fingerprinter, 413
Gem investment boom, The, 485
Gem materials, 131
Gem occurrences in Poland, 481
Gem peridot and enstatite with spinel inclusions from Chihuahua, Mexico, 236
Gemmological colorimetry, 259
—instruments, 274, 489
—notes, 90
—practice, 211
—structure in England and Germany, 475
—study group report on a new opal

imitation, 544
—study of an original maxixe beryl, 135
Gemmology at the 11th International Mineralogical Conference, 549
—courses at Chichester, Residential, 356
—Examinations in: 1977, 64; 1978, 347
Gemprint, 73
Gems and minerals of Washington; a collectors' reference, 551
Gemstone-mining in Ceylon, 56
Gemstones and abrasives, 550
—from Kenya, 543
—of Rajasthan, 477
—of the world, 140
General characteristics of transition elements, 473
Genesis of topaz according to the data on microinclusions, 478
Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some emerald, tanzanite, tsavorite and ruby mines in Tanzania and Kenya, 124
Geological setting of the nodules at Dulcote, Somerset, 77
Geology and geochemical expression of the Gachalá emerald district, Colombia, 472
Geology of the moon, The, 130
GERE (C.), et al., The jeweller's art: an introduction to the Hull Grundy gift to the British Museum, 421
German Gemmological Association, 2nd Technical Conference of, 1978, 429
Germany, Mineral sources, Baden-Württemberg, Rhineland-Palatinate, 143
—Pearls from the Fichtelgebirge, 483
—Transparent cuttable hauynite from the Eifel,, 198
—White opal from the Fichtel mountains, 484
GEVERS (R.), et al., Diffraction and imaging techniques in material science, 486
GIARDINI (A. A.), Some mineral inclusions from African and Brazilian diamonds: their nature and significance, 205
GIBBS (G. V.), et al., Redetermination of the chromium position in ruby, 476
—et al., A refinement of the structure of dioptase, 207
Gifts to the Association, 72, 149, 216, 282, 338, 493, 552
GILL (J. O.), A study of colored diamonds, 474
—water melon diamonds, 474
GILL (R. H.), et al., Minerals of the benitoite gem mine, 279
Gilson, Pierre, a visit to: New additions to the subject of synthetic emerald, 128
—A report on his talk, 494
GIRGIS (K.), et al., The structure of stars, 130
GLAS (M.), Occurrence of beryl, 274
—et al., Mineral sources, Baden-Württemberg, W. Germany, 143
GLEADOW (A. J. W.), The geology of the moon, 130
GLÖCKNER (W.), et al., Amber and amber fossils, 420
GOLDMAN (D. S.), et al., Channel constituents in beryl, 474
Goniometer in gemmology—possibilities and limits, The, 483
Good luck or the story of a placer, 272
GOODMAN (C. H. L.), Crystal growth: theory and techniques, 417
GORELIKOVA (N. V.), Distribution of iron ions in the structure of tourmalines according to Mössbauer spectroscopic data, 474
GRAESER (S.) et al., Minerals of the Binntal, 420
Gramaccioli (C. M.), Minerals of the Alps 418
—The minerals of Baveno, 202
—Zircon, an interesting stone, 130
GRAZIANI (G.), Red striations in willemite from Franklin Furnace, New Jersey, U.S.A., 545
—et al., Characterization of two samples of Taiwan's jade, 153
—et al., Hydrous gem magnesian cordierite with inclusions of hydroxy-apatite, dolomite and rutile, 474
—et al., Mineralogical study of a star-beryl and its inclusions, 545
Great Britain and Ireland, Manual of the mineralogy of, 138
GREEDAN (J. E.), et al., The Czochralski growth of $LiBO_2$ and $Li_2B_4O_7$, 202
Greenland, Fiskenässet, ruby location in, 546
GREENSPAN (J.), Charoite, a spectacular new cutting material, 474
—Diamond tools in the lapidary arts, 474
GREG (R. P.), et al., Manual of the mineralogy of Great Britain and Ireland, 138
GRICE (J. D.), et al., The Jeffrey Mine, Asbestos, Quebec, 545
GRIFFIN (W. L.), et al., New data on lazurite, 130
Growth condition of a natural diamond, The, 476

Growth from skull melting of zirconia rare-earth oxide crystals, 276
Growth induced radiation-developed pleochroic anisotropy in smoky quartz, 412
Growth of corundum single crystals from $Na_3AlF_{6-x}Li_3AlF_6$ system fluxes, 210
Growth of Ni-doped MgF_2 crystals in self-sealing graphite crucibles, 278
Growth of ZrO_2 crystals by localized cooling methods using $Na_2B_4O_7$-KF flux, 473
Growth of ZrO_2 single crystals using V_2O_5-NaF flux, 473
Growth process of baddeleyite (ZrO_2) in PbF_2 flux, 473
Growth striae in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, 56
GRUNDMANN (G.), et al., The emerald porphyroblasts in the penninic rocks of the central Tauern Window, 276
Grundy, Hull, an introduction to the gift to the British Museum: The jeweller's art, 421
GÜBELIN (E. J.), Analytical results of poly-mineralic sulfide inclusions in diamond, 203
—Djevalite, a new diamond imitation, 203
—Fiskenässet: ruby location in Greenland, 546
—Inclusions in tourmaline, 546
—In the valley of rubies, 130
—Jadeite, green treasure of Burma, 274
—The point of research in gemmology, 546
—Sapphire blue euclase—a stone for collectors, 475
—The tears of the Heliades, 475
—Tell-tale inclusions in a phenakite from Brazil, 357
—Trapped in a gemstone, 418
—Two new gemstones from the United States, 546
—Typical inclusions in aquamarine and emerald, 274
—et al., From the testing practice, 274
—et al., Nature and significance of mineral inclusions in natural diamonds, 409
—et al., The structure of stars, 130
Guide to Australian gemstones, 142
Guide to colored gems, The, 214
GUIDI (G.), et al., Hydrous gem magnesian cordierite with inclusions of hydroxyapatite, dolomite and rutile, 474
—et al., Mineralogical study of a star-beryl and its inclusions, 545
GUILHAUMOU (N.), et al., Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in quartz and dolomite from the evaporitic Trias of northern Tunisia, 479
Guillen (P.), Returning to pearls, 274
GUNARATNE (H. S.), Blue sapphires and rubies—precious commodities of investment, 274

H3 centre, The, 202
HAMIL (M. M.), et al., A refinement of the structure of dioptase, 207
HAMMOND (B. R.), The Hixon Collection, 211
HAMMONS (L.), Mineral and gem localities in Arizona, 418
HANNEMAN (W. W.), Gemological instruments—which should I buy, 274
—L_H—a new gemological property, 203
—The role of reflectivity in gemmology, 109
—Water as a gemological tool, 275
HARDING (B. L.), Crazy corundum, 130
HARDING (R. R.), The Geological setting of the nodules at Dulcote, Somerset, 77
Hardness varies in gem minerals, How, where and why, 477
Hardness, Wherein crystals contest with each other—mineral, 204
Harrow College of Technology and Art, 283
HARTFORD (W. H.), Color and the chromium minerals, 275
HASSAN (F.), et al., Induced color centers in a-spodumene called kunzite, 475
HASSIB (A.), et al., Photochromic properties of natural sodalite, 130
Hauynite from the Eifel, Transparent cuttable, 198
Headley Museum, Lexington, Kentucky, The, 486
HEALEY (D.), et al., The air-boundary refractometer, 521
Heat treatment of Australian blue sapphires, 414
HECKMAN (M. W.), Gemmological structure in England and Germany, 475
HEPWORTH (J. V.), et al., Resources inventory of Botswana: metallic minerals, mineral fuels and diamonds, 486
Herderite from Brazil, Colourless and blue-violet cuttable, 125

HERGT (R.), et al., Preparation of single crystal garnet substrates, 199
HERTING (S.), et al., Jeremejevite from Cape Cross, S.W. Africa, 275
HEWITT (C. G.), Adventures with Virgin Valley opals, 203
High temperatures solvent growth of orthoenstatite in air, 130
Himalaya dike system, Mesa Grande district, San Diego county, California, The, 273
HINTZE (J.), The emerald localities of Colombia, 546
Historical development of cultured pearl industry in Japan, 479
Historical notes on South American gemstones, 208
History and present status of synthetic diamond, The, 478
Hixon Collection, The, 211
HOCHLEITNER (R.), The beryllium pegmatite at Tittling in the Bayerischen Wald, 275
—Dravite from the Drava, 546
—Mineral guide, 418
HODGKINSON (A.), Visual optics, 301
HOGARTH (D. D.), et al., New data on lazurite, 130
HOLFERT (J.), A field guide to topaz and associated minerals of Topaz Mountain, Utah, 419
HOMMA (S.), et al., X-ray topography and EPMA studies of synthetic quartz, 475
HONERT (J.), et al., Rose quartz of the Black Hills, 55
HORIUCHI (N.), New synthetic opal made of plastics, 547
HORNYTZKYJ (S.), et al., Observations on gem manganotantalite from Morrua, Mozambique, 363
How to feel the difference between a diamond and a cubic zirconia, 542
How to invest in gems, 142
How, where and why hardness varies in gem minerals, 477
HOWIE (R.A), et al., Rock-forming minerals, 487
HUBER (S.) and (P.), Mineral sources, Upper and Lower Austria and Burgenland, 143
HUDSON (P. R. W.), Crystal imperfections in natural gem diamond, 547
—et al., Hydrogen impurity in natural gem diamond, 203
HUDSON (S.), Hunting the dexagons; in search of Georgia beryl, 203
HUNGER (R.), The magic of amber, 213
Hunting the hexagons: in search of Georgia beryl, 203
HURLBUT (C. S.), et al., Manual of mineralogy, after James D. Dana, 280
HUTTON (D. R.), Magnetic resonance—a non-destructive probe of gemstones, 372
—et al., Electron spin resonance of emeralds, 275
Hyalite from the Spruce Pine district, North Carolina, 549
Hydrogen impurity in natural gem diamond, 203
Hydrogen in diamond, 208
Hydromagnesite, axinite, amethyst and other minerals from near Vitória de Conquista, Brazil, 200
Hydrothermal crystallization of $MnSiO_3$ polymorphs, 133
Hydrous gem magnesian cordierite with inclusions of hydroxyapatite, dolomite and rutile, 474
Hydroxyl-herderite from Brazil and a guide to species nomenclature for the herderite hydroxyl-herderite series, 545
HYNDMAN (D. W.), et al., Roadside geology of northern California, 415
—et al., Roadside geology of the northern Rockies, 415
Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in quartz and dolomite from the evaporitic Trias of northern Tunisia, 479

Identification of gemstones by means of x-ray transmission (x-radiography), 409
Identification of some rare organic materials, 470
Identification of synthetic opal, a review, 270
IGEA (J.), Spectrographic identification of amber, 55
IKEDA (T.), et al., Growth striae in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, 56
Illustrated encyclopedia of the mineral kingdom, The, 281
Imitation opal, 270
Imitation opal, Slocum stone, 295
In the heart of gemstones, 470
In white marble, 125
Inclusions in agate and their origins and significance, 412
—in minerals, Basic knowledge on studies of fluid, 483

—in tourmaline, 546
—A new rule—gems and their typical, 478
—on the form, habit, structure, twinning and aggregate-forming properties of crystals, On the influence of, 544
India, Copper bearing aventurine zeolite: an occurrence in, 186
—Cordierite cat's-eyes, probably from, 210
—Diamond in, 413
—Gemstones of Rajasthan, 477
—Minerals of, 421
—Pitiable condition of Rajasthan emerald mines, 415
—Rubies form Alipur in Mysore, 543
Indonesian diamonds: notes of a visit, 208
Induced color centers in a-spodumene called kunzite, 475
Infrared spectrum of painite,, 480
Infrared studies of x-ray irradiated and heat treated synthetic quartz single crystals, 471
Insight into crystal growth techniques, An, 11
Instruments, Gemmological, 489
—Gemological,—which should I buy, 274
—and techniques, New gemmological, 386
International directory of micromounters, 492
—Gemmological Conference, XVIth, 150
—opal journal, 421
Intracrystalline cavities, Study of the strangulation process of, 484
Investigating the visible spectra of coloured diamonds, 433
Investment boom, The gem, 485
Iran, On the turquoise deposits of Nishabur, North East, 205
Irradiation colours in topaz, quartz and beryl, 205
Is your amber real? 408
ISHII (M.), et al., Growth striae in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, 56
Italy, Documentation on synthetic crystals, 215
—Emeralds of Val Vigezzo, Ossola, 126
—The mineralogical collections of the Civic Museum of Natural History in Milan over 140 years of its history, 477
—Minerals of Baveno, 202
—Note on a pearl formed in the waters of the river Po, 202
—Zircon from Vicentino, 200
ITO (J.), Crystal synthesis of a new cesium alumino-silicate, 131
—Crystal synthesis of a new olivine, 131
—High temperature solvent growth of orthoenstatite in air, 130
IVANOVA (G. F.), et al., Genesis of topaz according to the data on micro-inclusions, 478
Ivories, The structural characteristics of various, 126
Ivory Coast, Diamond locations in the, 211
Ivory, The structural characteristics of elephant, 126
IWATA (M.), et al., X-ray topography and EPMA studies of synthetic quartz, 475
IYER (M. N.), et al., The Czochralski growth of $LiBO_2$ and $Li_2B_4O_7$, 202

Jade, California; a collection of reprints, 127
—Characterization of two samples of Taiwan's, 153
—The fracture of, 207
—Friends of, 555
—Minerals which look like, 410
Jadeite, green treasure of Burma, 274
JAHNS (R. H.), Gem materials, 131
JAMIESON (N. P.), Recognition of synthetic opal, 547
Japan, Historical development of cultured pearl industry in, 479
Jasper minerals in the U.S.S.R., 415
—Notes on the origin of the Biggs, 482
Jeffrey Mine, Asbestos, Quebec, The, 545
JENKINS (W. J.), A soudé emerald from Colombia, 204
JENSEN (K. E.), Minerals which look like jade, 410
Jeremejevite from Cape Cross, S.W. Africa, 275
—from South West Africa, Blue cuttable, 125
Jeweller's art: an introduction to the Hull Grundy gift to the British Museum, The, 421
JOBBINS (E. A.), The Diamond Eye and the Lustermeter: a review, 239
—et al., An attempt to establish a colour range for garnet from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, 278
—et al., Charoite, a spectacular, new, purple mineral, 1
—et al., Studies of a gem garnet suite from the Umba River, Tanzania, 161
JONES (G. C.), et al., The infrared spectrum of painite, 480

JONES (R. W.), Arizona: heartland of gems, 55

KAGAYA (B.), Fingerprint of diamond, 410
Kalahari manganese field, The, 414
KALDIS (E.), Current topics in materials science, 419
KAMPF (A. R.), et al., The Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County, 275
KATO (K.) et al., Optical absorption spectra of iron (III) and chromium (III) doped in synthetic yttrium-aluminium garnet (YAG), 209
Katzeldonia and good red stones, 135
Kauri gum, 470
KEDDY (R. J.), et al., Hydrogen in diamond, 208
KELLER (P. C.), et al., The Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County, 275
Kenya, Gemstones from, 543
—Spessartine from the Taita Hills, 411
—and Tanzania, Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some emerald, tanzanite, tsavorite and ruby mines in, 124
—and Tanzania, Transparent blue-green kornerupines from, 208, 455
KHADZHI (V. E.), et al., The third type of citrine colour of natural quartz, 481
KILIAN (R.), et al., Automatic crystal-pulling equipment for Czochralski growth, 205
KLEIN (C.), et al., Manual of mineralogy, after James D. Dana, 280
Klockmann's mineralogy, 551
KORAIRA (K.), et al., Crystal growth of bismuth titanates and titanium oxide from melts in the system Bi_2O_3-V_2O_5-TiO_2, 208
KOHLER (H.), et al., Automatic crystal-pulling equipment for Czochralski growth, 205
KOIVULA (J. I.), et al., Synthetic cubic stabilized zirconia, 476
KOIZUMI (M.), et al., Specific gravity, refractive indices and depth of formation of natural emeralds, 413
KOLOMITSEV (A. I.), et al., Columnar mechanism of growth of natural diamond crystals of cubic habit, 131
KOMATSU (H.), et al., Differentiation of black pearls, 410
—et al., The growth condition of a natural diamond, 476
KOREVAAR (H. J.), et al., Cordierite cat's-eyes, probably from India, 210
KORHONEN (K. T.), et al., Observations on gem manganothatalite from Morrua, Mozambique, 363
Kornerupine, Synthesis and crystal chemistry of, 485
Kornerupines from Kenya and Tanzania, Blue-green, 208, 455
KOSE (A.), Artificial opal, 547
KOVALENKO (V. I.), et al., Genesis of topaz according to the data on micro-inclusions, 478
KOVALENKO (V. S.), et al., Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite opal, 542
KRAUS (P. D.), Opal and tourmaline; birthstones for October, 411
KRESTEN (P.), Chrome pyrope from the Alnö complex, 131
KROUZEK (E.), et al., Ceruleite—a new gemstone, 86
KRUPP (H.), et al., Crystals with exceptional inclusions—tourmaline from Tanzania and beryl from Brazil, 135
—et al., Spessartine from the Taita Hills, Kenya, 411
—et al., Transparent blue-green kornerupines from Kenya and Tanzania, 208, 455
KUEHN (R. L.), The guide to coloured gems, 214
KULIKOVA (I. M.), et al., Metamict transformations in some niobates and zircons according to x-ray absorption spectra, 199
Kunzite, Induced color centers in a-spodumene called, 475
KUSTOV (E. F.), et al., Absorption and luminescence spectra of Nd^{3+} and Er^{3+} ions in monocrystals of $CaYAlO_4$, 131
KUZNETSOVA (N. N.), et al., Charoite, a new mineral and jewellery stone, 481
Kyanite, aquamarine and cordierite showing intervalence charge transfer, Mössbauer spectra of, 206
—Two-fold hardness, origin and working of, 129

L_H—a new gemological property, 203
LABIB (M.), et al., Induced color centers in a-spodumene called kunzite, 475
Labradorescence, 411
LALLEMENT (A.), Fever at Governador Valadares, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 476
LANG (A. R.), et al., The growth condition of a natural diamond, 476

Lapidary arts, Diamond tools in the, 474
Lapis lazuli, Artist's colour and jewel; azure stone or, 211
Lapis Lazuli in the Italian Mountain area of Colorado, 56
Lapis, Not only, 543
LAREIDA (S.), Mineral sources in Bergell, 55
—One hires an ass . . . 547
LARSON (B.), The best of San Diego County, 275
LARSON (P.), et al., Rose quartz of the Black Hills, 55
Laser molecular microprobe and its application to mineralogy and gemmology, The, 202
Laser reflection patterns in diamond and diamond substitutes, 477
Late Robert M. Shipley, an appreciation, The, 285
Lazurite, New data on,, 130
LEAVENS (P. B.), et al., Hydroxyl-herderite from Brazil and a guide to species nomenclature for the herderite/hydroxyl-herderite series, 545
LEE (C. W.), et al., A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, 549
LEHMANN (G.), About the causes of colour in natural citrines, 131
—et al., Infrared studies of x-ray irradiated and heat treated synthetic quartz single crystals, 471
—et al., Phenomena associated with diffusion of trivalent iron in amethyst quartz, 136
LEITE (C. R.), et al., Olivine epitaxy in Brazilian diamonds, 128
Letters to the Editor 218, 555
LETTSOM (W. G.), et al., Manual of the mineralogy of Great Britain and Ireland, 138
LEWIS (D.), Practical gem testing, 214
LIDDICOAT (R. T.), Comments on the Hixon Collection, 211
—Developments and highlights at GIA's Lab in Santa Monica, 131 204
—et al., Synthetic cubic stabilized zirconia, 476
Liddicoatite, a new calcium end-member of the tourmaline group, 273
—a new gem tourmaline species from Madagascar, 172
LIEBER (W.), Diamonds: fragments of eternity, 547
—Luminescent crystals, 55
—The mineral collector, 419
—Peridot, state gem of Arizona, 132
—Wherein crystals contest with each other—mineral hardness, 204
LIEBERTZ (J.),et al., Raster electron microscopic examination of synthetic opal, 472
Light dispersed by faceted YAG gemstone, On the, 198
Like millstones for sugar-cane, 276
Limoeiro pegmatite and its minerals, The, 471
LISITSYNA (E. E.), et al., The third type of citrine colour of natural quartz, 481
List of prices and technical details of gem materials, 486
Little geology of the Eastern Alps, 57
Little River Sapphire lease, The, 411
LOEFFLER (B. M.), et al., Mössbauer spectra of kyanite, aquamarine and cordierite showing intervalence charge transfer, 206
—et al., Shedding light on the color of gems and minerals, 132
LOKHOVA (G. G.),et al., Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural emeralds, 476
LOUGHLIN (J.), Australian opals, 132
LOWELL (J.), et al., Mineralization of the Four Peaks amethyst deposit, Maricopa County, Arizona, 411
LOWER (J. N.), et al., EPR studies of irradiated diamonds, 204
Luminescent crystals, 55
LÜSCHEN (H.), Mineralogical notes, 476
Lustermeter and the Diamond Eye: a review, 239

McCAULEY (J. W.), et al., Redetermination of the chromium position in ruby, 476
McCAWLEY (E. L.), How, where and why hardness varies in gem minerals, 477
Macroscopic inclusions of fluid in British fluorites from the mineral collection of the British Museum (Natural History), 480
Madagascar, Liddicoatite, a new gem tourmaline species from, 172
MADIBA (C.) et al., Hydrogen in diamond, 208
MAES (J.) et al., About colourless spodumenes and colour changes in spodumenes, 125
—et al., Colour changing garnets from East Africa and Sri Lanka, 198
—et al., Sillimanite cabochons in mixed parcel from Ceylon, 543

—et al., Transparent, blue-red changing corundum from Columbia, 408
Magic of amber, The, 213
Magic world of minerals, 488
Magical jewels of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, 138
Magnetic applications, Crystals for, 419
Magnetic resonance—a non-destructive probe of gemstones, 372
Making use of diamond's anisotropic hardness taking as an example a scratch tool, 482
Malagasy Republic, Anjanabonoina, home of the finest tourmaline, 549
Manganese field, The Kalahari, 414
Manganotantalite from Morrua, Mozambique, Observations on gem, 363
MANSON (D. V.), Plastic impregnated opal, 477
MANSON (V.), Origin of tourmaline from Pala, California, 477
Manual of mineralogy, after James D. Dana, 280
Manual of the mineralogy of Great Britain and Ireland, 138
Manufacture of ornaments, 279
MANUTCHEHR-DANAI (M.), On the turquoise deposits of Nishabur (N.E. Iran), 205
Marble, In white, 125
MARENGWA (B. S. I.), et al., Resources inventory of Botswana: metallic minerals, mineral fuels and diamonds, 486
Martin MGA-1 Gem Analyser: a report, 50
MARTINI (M.), et al., Characterization of two samples of Taiwan's jade, 153
MATEIKA (D.), et al., Automatic crystal-pulling equipment of Czochralski growth, 205
—et al., Coupled substitution of gallium by magnesium and zirconium in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet, 276
Materials of electrical and magnetic interest, 137
Materials science, Current topics in, 419
MATSUSHITA (T.), et al., Crystal growth of bismuth titanates and titanium oxide from melts in the system Bi_2O_3-V_2O_5-TiO_2, 208
MATTIOLI (V.), et al., The emeralds of Val Vigezzo, Ossola, 126
Maxixe beryl and maxixe-type beryl, The difference between: an electron paramagnetic resonance investigation, 313
Measuring dispersion of cut stones, 136
MEDENBACH (O.), et al., Crystals with exceptional inclusions—tourmaline from Tanzania and beryl from Brazil, 135
—et al., Magic world of minerals, 488
—et al., Spessartine from the Taita Hills, Kenya, 411
MEHTA (K.), Gemstones of Rajasthan, 477
MEIXNER (H.), Rubies from Longido, Tanzania, 132
—et al., An occurrence of väyrynenite crystals in Pakistan, 411
Melt growth of oxide and related single crystals, The, 272
Members' Meetings: London, 58, 145, 216, 339, 423, 494; Midlands Branch, 58, 145, 282, 339, 423, 494, 552; North-West Branch, 58, 145, 217, 282, 339, 424, 494, 553; South Yorkshire Branch, 59, 145, 217, 339, 424, 494
MERRIMAN (R. J.), et al., Charoite, a spectacular, new purple mineral, 1
Metal sulfides, Mineral chemistry of, 421
Metamict transformations in some niobates and zircons according to x-ray absorption spectra, 199
METZ (R.), The face of minerals and gemstones, 488
Mexico, Gem peridot and enstatite with spinel inclusions from Chihuahua, 236
MEYER (H. O. A.), et al., Nature and significance of mineral inclusions in natural diamonds, 409
MICHEL (D.), et al., Growth from skull melting of zirconia rare-earth oxide crystals, 276
MICHELE (V. de), Amethyst from Osilo, 132
—The mineralogical collections of the Civic Museum of Natural History in Milan over 140 years of its history, 477
—et al., The emerald of Val Vigezzo, Ossola, 126
MICLEA (I.), et al., Crystals of Romania, 419
Micromounters, International directory of, 492
Microscope, That looks interesting, let's put it under the, 279
Microscope, The Zeiss slit lamp, 279
Microscopes, Report on, 271
MIKA (J.), et al., Analytical emission spectroscopy, 488

MILASHEV (V. A.), Toward a theory of the prediction of bedrock diamond potential, 477
MILES (E. R.), Laser reflection patterns in diamond and diamond substitutes, 477
Mineral chemistry of metal sulfides, 421
—collector, The, 419
—collector's field guide, 491
—and gem localities in Arizona, 418
—guide, 418
—kingdom, The illustrated encyclopedia of the, 281
—kingdom, Wonders of the, 420
—sources, 142
—sources in Bergell, 55
Mineralien Magazin, 212
Mineralization of the Four Peaks amethyst deposit, Maricopa County, Arizona, 411
Mineralogical catalogue, mid 1977 to mid 1978, Standard, 280
—collections of the Civic Museum of Natural History in Milan over 140 years of its history, The, 477
—inventory of France, 142
—notes, 476
—pocket-book for the Salzburg area, 420
—study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, A, 549
—study of a star-beryl and its inclusions, 545
Mineralogy after James D. Dana, Manual of, 280
—foundations and methods, 141
—Klockmann's, 551
—of Arizona, 137
—of Great Britain and Ireland, Manual of the, 138
—of silicic acid, 549
Minerals from Namibia, South West Africa, 484
—Magic world of, 488
—of the Alps, 418
—of Baveno, The, 202
—of the benitoite gem mine, 279
—of the Binntal, 420
—of India, 421
—of the St. Lawrence Valley, 419
—of Washington, 551
—Rock-forming, 487
—and stones, 141
—their occurrences and associations, 487
—which look like jade, 410
MIR-MOHAMMEDI (A.), et al., Turquoise, stone of Heaven, 205
MITCHELL (R. S.), Odell diamonds, barite crystals from Gage County, Nebraska, 276
—A turquoise-like mixture of chalcedony and celadonite from Conejos County, Colorado, 132
—et al., Some mineral inclusions from African and Brazilian diamonds: their nature and significance, 205
MIURA (Y.), Labradorescence, 411
MOMOI (H.), Hydrothermal crystallization of $MnSiO_3$ polymorphs, 133
MONES ROBERDEAU (L.), Quantitative study of fluorescence stimulated by ultraviolet radiation in brilliant-cut diamonds, 133
—et al., Diamonds, 487
Moon, The geology of the, 130
More data on violet gem scapolite, probably from Eastern Africa, 448
Morganite, Aquamarine and, 277
MORTEANI (G.), et al., The emerald porphyroblasts in the penninic rocks of the central Tauern Window, 276
MOSELE (G.), A new rule—gems and their typical inclusions, 478
—et al., Zircon from Vicentino, 200
Mössbauer spectra of kyanite, aquamarine and cordierite showing intervalence charge transfer, 206
Mössbauer spectroscopic data, Distribution of iron ions in the structure of tourmalines according to, 474
MOULE (A. J.), et al., The structural characteristics of elephant ivory, 126
—et al., The structural characteristics of various ivories, 126
MOULTON (P. F.), et al., Growth of Ni-doped MgF_2 crystals in self-sealing graphite crucibles, 278
Mozambique, Observations on gem manganotantalite from Morrua, 363
MUMME (I. A.), The Little River Sapphire lease, 411
—et al., The colouration of Mt Surprise topaz by gamma irradiation, 547
—et al., Notes on sapphires from stream gravels at Frazer's Creek in Glen Innes area, 412
—et al., On the genesis of volcanic opal at Houghlahan's Creek near Teven-Tintenbar, N.S.W., 478
MYERS (H. P.), Colour classifications of sapphires from Sri Lanka, 489
NASSAU (K.), Comment on 'Water as a gemological tool', 412
—Cubic zirconia, the latest diamond imitation and skull melting, 133
—Did Professor Nacken ever grow hydrothermal emerald? 36
—Distinguishing diamond from cubic zirconia, 548

—The history and present status of synthetic diamond, 478
—Irradiation colours in topaz, quartz and beryl, 205
—Like millstones for sugar-cane, 276
—The non-single-crystal synthetics: turquoise, opal, etc., 55
—Note on 'About the causes of colour in natural citrines', 205
—A note on colour, 311
—The origins of color in minerals, 412
—A test of the Ceres diamond probe, 478
—et al., Black elbaite from Corrego do Urucum, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 480
—et al., The contact angle of water on gems, 276
—et al., A critical examination of synthetic turquoise, 136
—et al., Growth-induced radiation-developed pleochroic anisotropy in smoky quartz, 412
—et al., Smoky, blue, greenish-yellow and other irradiation-related colors in quartz, 133
—A unique green quartz, 133
Native gemstones, 142
Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County, The 275
Natural or synthetic opal, 270
Natural and synthetic gemstones newly appeared after the 2nd World War, 409
Nature and colour of a new alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, The, 205
Nature and significance of mineral inclusions in natural diamonds 409
NAUMOV (V. B.), et al., Genesis of topaz according to the data on micro-inclusions, 478
NELEN (J. E.), et al., Liddicoatite, a new calcium end-member of the tourmaline group, 273
—et al., Liddicoatite, a new gem tourmaline species from Madagascar, 172
—et al., On the composition of gem scapolites, 4
Nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, A mineralogical study of the Fengtien, 549
Nephrite jade from Cowell, The colour of, 277
New additions to the subject of synthetic emerald: a visit to Pierre Gilson, 128
New data on the enrichment of gallium in alexandrite, 548
New data on lazurite, 130
New data on the possible primary sources of Timan diamonds, 198
New diagrams for physical determination of garnets, 128
New diamond substitute, artificial zirconium oxide, A, 56
New facets of gems, 548
New forms of synthetic gem materials: two brief notes, 462
New gem diamond pen, 482
New gemmological instruments and techniques, 386
New 'Lady' is born, A, 198
New minerals in Siberia and the Soviet Far East, 484
New rule—gems and their typical inclusions, A, 478
New synthesis, A, 270
New synthetic opal made of plastics, 547
News of Fellows, 58, 148, 216, 338, 424, 493, 552
NICHOL (D.), Amazonite deposit near Koppio, 478
—Amethyst deposit, hundred of Kelly, 134
—The colour of nephrite jade from Cowell, 277
—Opal occurrences near Granite Downs Homestead, 133
NIEDERMAYR (G.), Phenakites in gem quality from the Habach Valley, Salzburg, Austria, 548
NIKOLAYEVA (T. T.), et al., New data on the possible primary sources of Timan diamonds, 198
NIKOL'SKAYA (L. V.), et al., The nature and colour of a new alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, 205
—et al., On the origin of natural sapphire color, 479
Niobates and zircons according to x-ray absorption spectra, Metamict transformations in some, 199
NITSCHE (R.), et al., Crystal growth information, 215
No country for tourmaline, 544
Non-single-crystal synthetics: turquoise, opal, etc., The, 55
NORBERG (J.), et al., On the composition of gem scapolites, 4
Norway, Where you can fine green stones. Two European emerald locations, 207
Not only amethyst comes from the paradise gemstones, Brazil, 209
Not only lapis, 543
Notable scheelite discovery in the Rauris, Salzburg, A, 210
Note on 'About the causes of colour in natural citrines', 205

Note on colour, A, 311
Note on a pearl formed in the waters of the river Po, 202
Note on the structure of fire agate, 470
Notes from the Laboratory, 299, 365
Notes on the occurrence and mineralogy of emeralds in Rhodesia, 177
Notes on the origin of the Biggs jasper, 482
Notes on sapphires from stream gravels at Frazer's Creek in Glen Innes area, N.S.W., 412
NOVOZHILOV (A. I.), et al., The nature and colour of a new alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, 205
NOWACKI (W.), et al., Minerals of the Binntal, 420

OBENAUER (K.), On the formation of cornelian in coloured sandstones and their druses, 548
Obituaries: Mr G. F. Andrews, 356; Mr D. J. Ewing, 423; Mr N. de Berry Noakes, 149; Mr E. R. Robson, 423; Mr C. J. Taylor, 423.
Observations on gem manganotantalite from Morrua, Mozambique, 363
Observations on the Slocum stone, 128
Occurrence of beryl, 274
Occurrence of cordierite in the state of Minas Gerais, Brazil, 271
Occurrence of väyrynenite crystals in 'Pakistan', An, 411
'Odell diamonds', barite crystals from Gage County, Nebraska, 276
O'DONOGHUE (M. J.), Aquamarine and morganite, 277
—Brief notes on some new synthetics, 257
—Crystal structures, 277
—Further developments in synthetic materials, 30
—New facets of gems, 548
—New forms of synthetic gem materials: two brief notes, 462
—Russian minerals, 277
—Scandinavian rock hunt, 479
—A tour of mineral sites in Eastern Europe, 479
—The tourmalines of the Pala Valley, San Diego County, California, U.S.A., 290
OKRUSCH (M.), et al., On the genesis and origin of rubies, 199
O'LEARY (B.), Black opal, 134
—A field guide to Australian opals, 215
—Fire forever, 206
Olivine, Crystal synthesis of a new, 131
—epitaxy in Brazilian diamonds, 128
On demantoid from the Urals and its colour, 548
On evaluating the reliability of certain diamond finds, 483
On the formation of cornelian in coloured sandstones and their druses, 548
On the genesis and origin of rubies, 199
On the genesis of volcanic opal at Houghlahan's Creek near Teven-Tintenbar, N.S.W., 478
On the influence of inclusions on the form, habit, structure, twinning and aggregate-forming properties of crystals, 544
On the light dispersion by faceted YAG gemstones, 198
On the nature of synthetic blue diopside crystals: the stabilization of tetravalent chromium, 135
On the origin of natural sapphire color, 479
On the refractive and reflective indices in identifying a gemstone, 414
On the turquoise deposits of Nishabur (N. E. Iran), 205
One hires an ass . . . , 547
ONO (A.), Syntheses of monoclinic and tetragonal ZrO_2 at high temperatures, 479
—et al., Growth of ZrO_2 crystals by localized cooling method using $Na_2B_4O_7$-KF flux, 473
—et al., Preparation of baddeleyite (monoclinic ZrO_2) using PbF_2 flux, 473
Opal, Artificial, 547
—as an investment, 212
—at Houghlahan's Creek near Teven Tintenbar, N.S.W., On the genesis of volcanic, 478
—Australian precious, 141
—Black, 134
—Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite, 542
—Fire forever, 206
—from the Fichtel mountains, White, 484
—Identification of synthetic, a review, 270
—Imitation, 270
—imitation, Gemmological study group report on a new, 544
—Imitation, Slocum stone, 295
—journal, International, 421
—Natural or synthetic, 270
—New synthetic, made from plastics, 547
—occurrences near Granite Downs

Homestead, 133
—Plastic impregnated, 477
—Raster electron microscopic examination of synthetic, 472
—Recognition of synthetic, 547
—Synthetic, by Gilson, 462
—and tourmaline; birthstones for October, 411
—turquoise, etc.: the non-single-crystal synthetics, 55
—the unlucky 'lucky' stone, 458
Opals, Adventures with Virgin Valley, 203
—Australian, 132
—A field guide to Australian, 215
—synthetic, 257, 272
Optical absorption spectra of iron (III) and chromium (III) doped in synthetic yttrium-aluminium garnet (YAG), 209
Optical methods to select diamonds of very high lattice perfection, 485
Orange-coloured topaz crystals from Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 206
Orange yellow aventurized scapolites, 271
Ord Range tiger's-eye deposits, The, 199
Organic materials, The identification of some rare, 470
Origin of tourmaline from Pala, California, 477
Origins of color in minerals, The, 412
Orthoenstatite, High temperature solvent growth of, in air, 130
OTOTAKE (H.), Historical development of cultured pearl industry in Japan, 479
OTTEMANN (J.), et al., New data on the enrichment of gallium in alexandrite, 548
—et al., Transparent blue-green kornerupines from Kenya and Tanzania, 208, 455
OWENS (V. S.), Unakite, 55

PAAR (W.), et al., A occurrence of väyrynenite crystals in 'Pakistan', 411
PABIAN (R. K.), Inclusions in agate and their origins and significance, 412
Painite, The infrared spectrum of, 480
Pakistan, Purple topaz from, 206, 278
Pala, a 'jewel' of a name, 56
PARKIN (K. M.), et al., Channel constituents in beryl, 474
—et al., Mössbauer spectra of kyanite, aquamarine and cordierite showing intervalence charge transfer, 206
Paste or glass, 279
PAULIN (P. E.), The blue colour of sodalite, 452
PEACOCK (S.), et al., Fire agate, 207
PEARL (R. M.), Atlas of crystal stereograms, 215
Pearl formed in the waters of the river Po, Note on a, 202
—imitation, 233
—industry in Japan, Historical development of cultured, 479
Pearls, 366
—The diagnostic radiograph structure of, 501
—Differentiation of black, 410
—from the Fichtelgebirge, 483
—Returning to, 274
Pectolite, Blue, from Santo Domingo, 93
Pegmatite at Alto Feio, Rose quartz-bearing, 471
—district of São João del Rei, Minas Gerais, Rare-element minerals from the, 473
—and its minerals, The Limoeiro, 471
Pegmatites of Laghman, Nuristan, Afghanistan, The, 470
PELLÉ (F.), et al., Crystallographic and spectroscopic studies of europium trivalent doped garnet type germanates, 134
PENSE (J.), et al., Sogdianite—a new gem material? 408
PEREZ Y JORBA (M.), et al., Growth from skull melting of zirconia rare-earth oxide crystals, 276
PERFIL'EV (Yu. D.), et al., Distribution of iron ions in the structure of tourmalines according to Mössbauer spectroscopic data, 474
Peridot and enstatite with spinel inclusions from Chihuahua, Mexico, Gem, 236
—state gem of Arizona, 132
PERTHUISOT (V.), et al., Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in quartz and dolomite from the evaporitic Trias of northern Tunisia, 479
Petalite from Itinga, Minas Gerais, 408
PETERSEN (O. V.), The twin formation of tugtupite; a contribution, 412
PETROV (D. S.), et al., Absorption and luminescence spectra of Nd^{3+} and Er^{3+} ions in monocrystals of $CaYAlO_4$, 131
PETROV (I.), Colour, causes of colour and colour changes in topazes, 277
—Colour investigation of topaz, 206, 278
—et al., Chrome-containing violet and orange-coloured topazes—a comparison, 134

—et al., The chromium absorption spectrum in topaz, 206
—et al., Orange-coloured topaz crystals from Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 206
—et al., Purple topaz from Pakistan, 206
—et al., Treated yellow and red-brown topazes and their identification, 134
—et al., Violet-coloured topaz of Pakistan, 278
PETROV (V. P.), et al., Absorption and luminescence spectra of Nd^{3+} and Er^{3+} ions in monocrystals of $CaYAlO_4$, 131
PFEFER (J.), Pala, a 'jewel' of a name, 56
Phenakite from Brazil, Tell-tale inclusions in a, 357
Phenakites in gem quality from the Habach Valley, Salzburg, Austria, 548
Phenomena associated with diffusion of trivalent iron in amethyst quartz, 136
Physical and optical study of the gem varieties of garnet, 124
Phosphophyllite from Bolivia, 91
Photochromic properties of natural sodalite, 130
PILGER (A.), et al., Turquoise, stone of Heaven, 205
Pitiable condition of Rajasthan emerald mines, 415
Plastic impregnated opal, 477
PLATONOV (A. N.), et al., The colour of gem spinels from the Kukhilal deposit, 408
Point of research in gemmology, The, 546
POIROT (J.-P.), Reading refractive index with the prism refractometer, 278
—Some aspects of synthetic cubic zirconium oxide: manufacture of djevalite and appearance of this probable synthetic zirkelite, 135
Poland, Gem occurrences in, 481
Polariscope-conoscope, The, 136
POUGH (F. H.), Alexandrite, 56
—et al., Blue transparent dumortierite from Brazil, 199
POULLEN (J. F.), et al., Not only lapis, 543
—et al., The pegmatites of Laghman, Nuristan, Afghanistan, 470
POVARENNYKH (A. S.), et al., The infrared spectrum of painite, 480
POVONDRA (P.), et al., Sodium-beryllium-bearing cordierite from Haddam, Connecticut, U.S.A., 480
POYNDER (M.), The price guide to jewellery, 3000 B.C. to 1950 A.D., 139
Practical gem testing, 214
Precious stones newsletter, 492
Precious stones of the future from the laboratory, 494
Preparation of baddeleyite (monoclinic ZrO_2) using PbF_2 flux, 473
PRESCOTT (B. E.), et al., Black elbaite from Corrego do Urucum, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 480
—et al., Growth-induced radiation-developed pleochroic anisotropy in smoky quartz, 412
—et al., Smoky, blue, greenish-yellow and other irradiation-related colors in quartz, 133
—et al., A unique green quartz, 133
Presentation of Awards: 1977, 144; 1978, 424
Price guide to jewellery, 3000 B.C. to 1950 A.D., The, 139
Prices, fine materials and metallurgical products, Bulletin of, 486
Prices on coloured stones, Recent, 550
Prices and technical details of gem materials, List of, 486
Primitive working: Brejinho's amethyst deposits in Bahia, Brazil, A, 471
PRUGOVA (I. V.), et al., New minerals in Siberia and the Soviet Far East, 484
Purple topaz from Pakistan, 206
Pyrope from the Alnö complex, Chrome, 131

Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural emeralds, 476
Quantitative study of fluorescence stimulated by ultraviolet radiation in brilliant-cut diamonds, 133
Quartz, The diagnostic inclusions of, 480
—and dolomite from the evaporitic Trias of northern Tunisia, Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in, 479
—Growth-induced radiation-developed pleochroic anisotropy in smoky, 412
—Rough, 415
—single crystals, Infrared studies of x-ray irradiated and heat treated synthetic, 471
—Smoky, blue, greenish-yellow and other irradiation-related colours in, 133
—synthetic, 257

—The third type of citrine colour of natural, 481
—topaz and beryl, Irradiation colours in, 205
—A unique green, 133
—X-ray topography and EPMA studies of synthetic, 475
QUIGLEY (D.), Botswana elevation in diamond league, 207
—Total of 173 diamonds so far in CRA's Australian strike, 413

RADCLIFFE (D.), et al., Fire agate, 207
RAGER (H.), Electron spin resonance of trivalent chromium in forsterite, 207
RAMDOHR (P.), et al., Klockmann's mineralogy, 551
Random layer structure of autunite by grinding, 127
RANKIN (A. H.), Macroscopic inclusions of fluid in British fluorites from the mineral collection of the British Museum (Natural History), 480
Rare-element minerals from the pegmatite district of São João del Rei, Minas Gerais, 473
Raster electron microscopic examination of synthetic opal, 472
RÄUBER (A.), et al., Crystal growth information, 215
READ (P. G.), Diamond notes, 370
—An experimental Brewster-angle refractometer, 537
—Gemmological instruments, 489
—The Martin MGA-1 Gem Analyser: a report, 50
—New gemmological instruments and techniques, 386
—Report on the Gem Diamond Pen, 465
Reading refractive index with the prism refractometer, 278
REAM (L. S.), Gems and minerals of Washington; a collector's reference, 551
Reassessment of the role of iron in the 5000-30 000cm^{-1} region of the electronic absorption spectra of tourmaline, A, 482
Recent prices on coloured stones, 550
RECKER (K.), Synthesis of emerald, 278
Recognition of synthetic opal, 547
Red striations in willemite from Franklin Furnace, New Jersey, U.S.A., 545
Redetermination of the chromium position in ruby, 476
REED (T. B.), et al., Growth of Ni-doped MgF_2 crystals in self-sealing graphite crucibles, 278
Refinement of the crystal structure of benitoite, 472
Refinement of the structure of dioptase, A, 207
Reflectivity in gemmology, The role of, 109
Refractive index, Gem characterized by, 125
Refractive index with the prism refractometer, Reading, 278
Refractive indices and specific gravities of beryls, 413
Refractive and reflective indices in identifying a gemstone, On the, 414
Refractometer, The air-boundary, 521
—Consideration on the use of the, 471
—An experimental Brewster-angle, 537
Refractory metamorphic gemstones of Australia, The 485
Regency emerald: a new synthetic from the U.S.A., 463
Remarks on the classification of natural polycrystalline diamond, 550
RENAN (M. J.), et al., Hydrogen in diamond, 208
Report from Thailand, 1978, 516
Report on the Gem Diamond Pen, 465
Report on microscopes, 271
Residential gemmology courses at Chichester, 356
Resources inventory of Botswana: metallic minerals, mineral fuels and diamonds, 486
Returning to pearls, 274
Rhodesia, Notes on the occurrence and mineralogy of emeralds in, 177
Rhodizite, The crystals structure of, 484
Rhodochrosite from Hotazell in South Africa, Clear transparent cuttable, 125
RIBBE (P. H.), et al., A refinement of the structure of dioptase, 207
Rich cliffs, 544
RIEDERER (J.), Gemstone-mining in Ceylon, 56
Rijksmuseum van Geologie en Mineralogie, 1878-1978, a retrospect, 545
RIPINEN (O. I.), et al., Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural emeralds, 476
RISLING (M.), The diagnostic inclusions of beryl and topaz, 135
—The diagnostic inclusions of quartz, 480
Roadside geology of northern California, 415
Roadside geology of the northern Rockies, 415

ROBINSON (D. N.), The characteristics of natural diamond and their interpretation, 480
ROBINSON (G.), et al., Minerals of the St. Lawrence Valley, 419
Rock-crystal, 139
Rock-forming minerals, 487
Rock and gem hunting in Cornwall, 356
ROGOVA (V. P.), ROGOVA (Yu. G.), et al., Charoite, a new mineral and jewellery stone, 481
Role of reflectivity in gemmology, The, 109
Romania, Crystals of, 419
ROOIJMANS (C. J. M.), Crystals for magnetic applicatons, 419
Rose quartz-bearing pegmatite at Alto Feio, 471
Rose quartz of the Black Hills, 55
ROSLER (H. J.), et al., Making use of diamond's anisotropic hardness taking as an example a scratch tool, 482
ROSSMAN (G. R.), et al., Channel constituents in beryl, 474
ROST (F.), et al., On demantoid from the Urals and its colour, 548
Rough quartz, 415
ROWCLIFFE (D. J.), et al., The fracture of jade, 207
Royal gem azurite, 270
Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, The, 208
Rubellite, Fever at Govenador Valadares, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 476
Rubies and blue sapphires—precious commodities of investment, 274
—from Alipur in Mysore, India, 543
—from Longido, Tanzania, 132
—In the valley of the, 130
—On the genesis and origin of, 199
Ruby, Comparison between natural, Verneuil and a new flux-melt grown ruby, 209
—from Chanthaburi, Thailand, 484
—location in Greenland, Fiskenässet, 546
—Redetermination of the chromium position in, 476
—and sapphire, Chromium, iron and titanium: cause of the colour of, 135
—tanzanite, emerald and tsavorite mines in Tanzania and Kenya, Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some, 124
—Zoning in, 235
RUPPENTHAL (A.), Wonders of the mineral kingdom, 420
RUSCHE (Ch.), et al., Coupled substitution of gallium by magnesium and zirconium in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet, 276
RUSKONÉ-PONCET (E.), Fashioning of gemstones up to the beginning of the 20th century, 548
Russian minerals, 277
RYBICKI (T.), et al., Mineralization of the Four Peaks amethyst deposit, Maricopa County, Arizona, 411
RYKART (R.), Rock-crystal, 139

SACHANBINSKI (M.), Gem occurrences in Poland, 481
SADDREDINI (H.), et al., On demantoid from the Urals and its colour, 548
SAMOILOVICH (M. I.), The nature and colour of a new alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, 205
—et al., On the origin of natural sapphire colour, 479
—et al., The third type of citrine colour of natural quartz, 481
SANDERS (J. V.), et al., Slocum stone, 273
—et al., Synthetic opals, 272
Sapphire, alexandrite-like, 231
—The big sky, 485
—blue euclase—a stone for collectors, 475
—color, On the origin of natural, 479
—Evidence for absorption by exchange-coupled Fe^{2}-Fe^{3} pairs in the near infrared spectra of minerals, 483
—lease, The Little River, 411
—mining district, Queensland, Economic geology of the Anakie, 318
—and ruby, Chromium, iron and titanium; cause of the colour of, 135
Sapphires, Blue, and rubies—precious commodities of investment, 274
—from Sri Lanka, Colour classification of, 489
—from stream gravels at Frazer's Creek in Glen Innes area, N.S.W., Notes on, 412
—Heat treatment of Australian blue, 414
Sardinia, Amethyst from Osilo, 132
SAUL (J. M.), et al., An attempt to establish a colour range for garnet from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, 278
—et al., Studies of a gem garnet suite from the Umba River, Tanzania, 161
Scandinavia Mineral sources, 143
—and United Kingdom, Sources of single crystals in, 281
Scandinavian rock hunt, 479
Scapolite, probably from Eastern Africa, more data on violet gem, 448
—with high RI and double refraction

from East Africa, Yellow cuttable, 271
Scapolites, on the composition of gem, 4
—Orange-yellow aventurized, 271
SCARISBRICK (D.), et al., Finger rings from ancient Egypt to the present day, 421
SCARRATT (K.), Investigating the visible spectra of coloured diamonds, 433
SCELLS (G.), Some north Queensland gem fields visited, 207
SCHAFER (W.), Where you can find green stones. Two European emerald locations, 207
SCHEEL (H. J.), et al., Flame-fusion growth of $SrTiO_3$, 199
Scheelite discovery in the Rauris, Salzburg, A notable, 210
SCHIFFMANN (C. A.), Gemmological study of an original maxixe beryl, 135
—A new diamond substitute—artifical zirconium oxide, 56
—et al., From the testing practice, 274
SCHLEE (D.), et al., Amber and amber fossils, 420
SCHMELTZER (H.), Katzeldonia and good red stones, 135
—Mineral sources, Rhineland-Palatinate, W. Germany, 143
—et al., Mineral sources, Baden-Württemberg, W. Germany, 143
SCHMETZER (K.), Chromium, ion and titanium: cause of the colour of ruby and sapphire 135
—Vanadium III as a colouring agent in natural silicates and oxides—a contribution to the crystal chemistry of vanadium, 280
—et al., Bluish-green zoisite from Merelani in Tanzania, 481, 512
—et al., Blue transparent dumortierite from Brazil, 199
—et al., Ceruleite—a new gemstone, 86
—et al., Chrome-containing violet and orange-coloured topazes, a comparison, 134
—et al., The chromium absorption spectrum in topaz, 206
—et al., Crystals with exceptional inclusions—tourmaline from Tanzania and beryl from Brazil, 135
—et ai., East African tourmalines and their nomenclature, 310
—et al., New data on the enrichment of gallium in alexandrite, 548
—et al., Orange-coloured topaz crystals from Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais, Brazil, 206
—et al., Purple topaz from Pakistan, 206
—et al., Spessartine from the Taita Hills, Kenya, 411
—et al., Towards an East African tourmaline nomenclature, 207
—et al., Transparent blue-green kornerupines from Kenya and Tanzania, 208, 455
—et al., Transparent, blue-red changing corundum from Columbia, 408
—et al., Transparent pink bustamite from Australia, 543
SCHMIDT (K.), et al., Little geology of the Eastern Alps, 57
SCHMIDT (W.), et al., Making use of diamond's anisotropic hardness taking as an example a scratch tool, 482
SCHMITZ (H.-H.), Mineralogy of silicic acid, 549
SCHNEER (C. J.), Crystals form and structure, 140
SCHNEIDER (W.), et al., Sogdianite—a new gem material, 408
SCHONHORN (H.), et al., The contact angle of water on gems, 276
SCHRADER (E. L.), et al., Hyalite from the Spruce Pine district, North Carolina, 549
SCHRADER (H.-W.), et al., Sogdianite—a new gem material, 408
SCHREIBER (H. D.), On the nature of synthetic blue diopside crystals: the stabilization of tetravelent chromium, 135
SCHREYER (W.), et al., Synthesis and crystal chemistry of kornerupine, 485
SCHUBNEL (H.-J.), Diamond in India, 413
—Diamond and the U.S.S.R., 482
—Gemmology at the 11th International Mineralogical Conference, 549
—Indonesian diamonds: notes of a visit, 208
—World map of gemstone deposits; explanatory note, 208
—et al., The laser molecular microprobe and its application to mineralogy and gemmology, 202
SCHUMANN (W.), Gemstones of the world, 140
—Minerals and stones, 141
SCHWARZMANN (S.), Feldspar family, 208
Secretary's visit to Canada, 283
SEIBRIGHT (L.), et al., The colouration of Mt Surprise topaz by gamma irradiation, 547
SELLSCHOP (J. P. F.), et al.,

Hydrogen in diamond, 208
SHAUB (B. M.), Notes on the origin of the Biggs jasper, 482
—Thomsonite, 56
SHAW (J. L.), The Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, 208
SHAW (R.), The new gem diamond pen, 482
Shedding light on the color of gems and minerals, 132
Shells and pearls, 366
SHIMADA (S.), et al., Crystal growth of bismuth titanates and titanium oxide from melts in the system Bi_2O_3-V_2O_5-TiO_2, 208
Shipley, The late Robert M., an appreciation, 285
Short gemmological notes, 137
SHULMAN (W.), et al., Twinning in minerals, 199
Silicic acid, Choice pieces on the theme of, 544
Silicic acid, Mineralogy of, 549
Sillimanite cabochons in a mixed parcel from Ceylon, 543
Simulants, see 'Synthetics'
Sinhalite and diopside from Ceylon, 124
SINKANKAS (J.), Historical notes on South American gemstones, 208
—The tourmaline country of southern California, 549
SKINNER-NIXON (E.), The alteration of colour of gemstones, 278
Slocum stone, 273
—Imitation opal, 295
—Observations on the, 128
SMITH (D.), That looks interesting, let's put it under the microscope, 279
SMITH (G.), Evidence for absorption by exchange-coupled Fe^2-Fe^3 pairs in the near infrared spectra of minerals, 483
—A reassessment of the role of iron in the 5000-30 000cm^{-1} region of the electronic absorption spectra of tourmaline, 482
Smoky, blue, greenish-yellow and other irradiation-related colors in quartz, 133
SNOW (J.), Paste or glass, 279
SOBOLEV (N. V.), et al., Coesite, garnet and omphacite inclusions in Yakut diamonds—first finding of coesite paragenesis, 209
SOBOLEV (V. S.), et al., Crystal line inclusions with octahedral faces in diamonds, 209
Sodalite, The blue colour of, 452
—Photochromic properties of natural, 130
Sodium-beryllium-bearing cordierite from Haddam, Connecticut, U.S.A., 480
Sogdianite, 514, 545
—a new gem material? 408
SOLNTSEV (V. P.), et al., Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural emeralds, 476
Some aspects of synthetic cubic zirconium oxide; manufacture of djevalite and appearance of this probable synthetic zirkelite, 135
Some exotic minerals of Western Tasmania, 270
Some mineral inclusions from African and Brazilian diamonds: their nature and significance, 205
Some 'new' angles on faceting, 472
Some north Queensland gem fields visited, 207
Somerset, The geological setting of the nodules at Dulcote, 77
Soudé emerald from Colombia, A, 204
Sources of single crystals in the United Kingdom and Scandinavia, 281
Spain, Documentation on synthetic crystals, 215
Specific gravity, refractive indices and depth of formation of natural emeralds, 413
Spectrographic indentification of amber, 55
Spectroscopy, 209
SPERO (S. A.), Diamonds, love and compatibility, 420
Spessartine from the Taita Hills, Kenya, 411
Spinels from the Kukhilal deposit, The colour of gem, 408
Spodumenes and colour changes in spodumenes, About colourless, 125
Sri Lanka, Colour classification of sapphires from, 489
—and East Africa, Colour changing garnets from, 198
—gemstone mining in, 56
—isle of gems, 485
—Sillimanite cabochons in mixed parcel from, 543
—Sinhalite and diopside from, 124
—Taiwan and Thailand, A visit to, 191
Stacking faults in natural diamonds, 209
STALDER (H. A.), et al., Minerals of the Binntal, 420
Standard mineralogical catalogue, mid 1977 to mid 1978, 280
Star of Independence, The, 90
STATHAM (P. M.), et al., An attempt to establish a colour range for garnet from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, 278

—et al., Studies of a gem garnet suite from the Umba River, Tanzania, 161
STEPANOV (I. S.), et al., On evaluating the reliability of certain diamond finds, 483
STOCK (H. D.), et al., Phenomena associated with diffusion of trivalent iron in amethyst quartz, 136
STONE (D. M.), et al., Australian precious opal, 141
Stones seen . . . , 280
STRASSER (A.), Mineralogical pocketbook for the Salzburg area, 420
STRÜBEL (G.), Mineralogy: foundations and methods, 141
Structural characteristics of elephant ivory, The, 126
Structural characteristics of various ivories, The, 126
Structure of stars, The, 130
STRUNZ (H.), Anjanabonoina, home of the finest tourmaline, 549
—Dichroscope, polariscope, crystal-refractometer—three simplified, i.e. improved, instruments for gem identification, 136
—et al., Jeremejevite from Cape Cross, S. W. Africa, 275
—et al., Klockmann's mineralogy, 551
—et al., Pearls from the Fichtelgebirge, 483
Studies of a gem garnet suite from Umba River, Tanzania, 161
Study of coloured diamonds, A, 474
Study of emeralds from an unsubstantiated African source of origin, A, 93
Study of the proportions of the cut of diamond, 272
Study of the strangulation process of intracrystalline cavities, 484
Study of valency changes of vanadium ions in Al_2O_3 by γ-irradiation, 136
STYLES (M. T.), et al., Charoite, a spectular new purple mineral, 1
SUGITANI (Y.), et al., Optical absorption spectra of iron (III) and chromium (III) doped in synthetic yttrium-aluminium garnet (Y.A.G.), 209
SUHNER (B.), The diagnosis of zircons, 279
—The goniometer in gemmology—possibilities and limits, 483
—Measuring dispersion of cut stones, 136
SUMIYOSHI (Y.), et al., Growth of corundum single crystals from $Na_3AlF_{6-x}Li_3AlF_6$ system fluxes, 210
Summary study of tubular cavities in aquamarines, 57
SUNAGAWA (I.), Cubic zirconia, 413
—Gem fingerprinter, 413
SUZUKI (Y.), et al., Flux growth and surface observations of ZrO_2 single crystals, 473
—et al., Growth process of baddeleyite (ZrO_2) in PbF_2 flux, 473
—et al., Preparation of baddeleyite (monoclinic ZrO_2) using PbF_2 flux, 473
SVIRIDENKO (A. F.), et al., Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite opal, 542
SVISERO (D. P.), et al., Rare-element minerals from the pegmatite district of São João del Rei, Minas Gerais, 473
Switzerland, Campolungo, Ticino, 125
—Mineral sources in Bergell, 55
—Minerals of the Binntal, 420
SYCHKIN (G. N.), et al., On evaluating the reliability of certain diamond finds, 483
Synthetics and simulants:
—Artificial opal, 547
—Automatic crystal-pulling equipment for Czochralski growth, 205
—Brief notes on some new synthetics, 257
—Coloured zirconia, 258
—Comparison between natural, Verneuil and a new flux-melt-grown ruby, 209
—Coupled substitution of gallium by magnesium and zirconium in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet, 276
—A critical examination of synthetic turquoise, 136
—Crystal growth information, 215
—Crystal growth of bismuth titanates and titanium oxide from melts in the system Bi_2O_3-V_2O_5-TiO_2, 208
—Crystal growth: theory and techniques, 417
—Crystal synthesis of a new cesium aluminosilicate, 131
—Crystal synthesis of a new olivine, 131
—Crystal for magnetic applications, 419
—Cubic stabilized zircon oxides, 200
—Cubic stabilized zirconias, 244, 431
—Cubic zirconia, 413
—Cubic zirconia, the latest diamond imitation ans skull melting, 133
—The Czochralski growth of $LiBO_2$ and $Li_2B_4O_7$, 202
—Distinguishing diamond from cubic

zirconia, 548
—Djevalite, a new diamond imitation, 203
—Documentation on crystals, Belgium, Spain, France, Italy, 215
—First European Conference on Crystal Growth, Zürich, 1976, 215
—Flame fusion growth of $SrTiO_3$, 199
—Flux growth and surface observations of ZrO_2 single crystals, 473
—Further developments in synthetic materials, 30
—Gemmological study group report on a new opal imitation, 544
—Growth from skull melting of zirconia rare-earth oxide crystals, 276
—Growth-induced radiation-developed pleochroic anisotropy in smoky quartz, 412
—Growth of corundum single crystals from $Na_3AlF_{6-x}Li_3AlF_6$ system fluxes, 210
—Growth of Ni-doped MgF_2 crystals in self-sealing graphite crucibles, 278
—Growth of ZrO_2 crystals by localized cooling method using $Na_2B_4O_7$-KF flux, 473
—Growth of ZrO_2 single crystals using V_2O_5-NaF flux, 473
—Growth process of baddeleyite (ZrO_2) in PbF_2 flux, 473
—Growth striae in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, 56
—High temperatures solvent growth of orthoenstatite in air, 130
—The history and present status of synthetic diamond, 478
—How to feel the difference between a diamond and a cubic zirconia, 542
—Hydrothermal crystallization of $MnSiO_3$ polymorphs, 133
—Identification of synthetic opal, a review, 270
—Imitation opal, 128, 270, 273, 295, 544
—Infrared studies of x-ray irradiated and heat treated synthetic quartz single crystals, 471
—An insight into crystal growth techniques, 11
—Laser reflection patterns in diamond and diamond substitutes, 477
—The melt growth of oxide and related single crystals, 272
—Natural of synthetic opal, 270
—Natural and synthetic gemstones newly appeared after the 2nd World War, 409
—New additions to the subject of synthetic emerald; a visit to Pierre Gilson, 128
—A new diamond substitute, artificial zirconium oxide, 56
—New facets of gems, 548
—New forms of synthetic gem materials: two brief notes, 462
—A new synthesis, 270
—New synthetic opal made of plastics, 547
—The non-single-crystal synthetics: turquoise, opal, etc., 55
—On the light dispersion by faceted YAG gemstone, 198
—On the nature of synthetic blue diopside crystals: the stabilization of tetravalent chromium, 135
—Optical absorption spectra of iron (III) and chromium (III) doped in synthetic yttrium-aluminium garnet (YAG), 209
—Paste or glass, 279
—Plastic impregnated opal, 477
—Preparation of baddeleyite (monoclinic ZrO_2) using PbF_2 flux, 473
—Preparation of single crystal garnet substrates, 199
—Raster electron mocroscopic examination of synthetic opal, 472
—Recognition of synthetic opal, 547
—Regency emerald: a new synthetic from the U.S.A., 463
—Slocum stone, 128, 273, 295
—Some aspects of cubic zirconia oxide; manufacture of djevalite and appearance of this probable synthetic zirkelite, 135
—Sources of single crystals in the United Kingdom and Scandinavia, 281
—Synthesis and crystal chemistry of kornerupine, 485
—Synthesis of diamond with temperatures under 1300°C and pressure under one atmosphere, 128
—Synthesis of emerald, 278
—Synthesis of monoclinic and tetragonal ZrO_2 at high temperatures, 479
—Synthetic corundums produced by the melt-diffusion method (rubies and sapphires according to Chatham), 124
—Synthetic cubic stabilized zirconia, 476
—Synthetic gemstones: principles and methods, 414
—Synthetic jewellery and gems, 554
—Synthetic opal by Gilson, 462
—Synthetic opals, 257, 272, 472
—Synthetic products with garnet structure, 273

—Synthetic quartz, 257
—Synthetic zirconia, 463
Two new gemstones from the United States, 546
—X-ray topography and EPMA studies of synthetic quartz, 475

TAGAWA (K.), et al., Optical absorption spectra of iron (III) and chromium (III) doped in synthetic yttrium-aluminium garnet (YAG), 209
TAIT (H.), et al., The jeweller's art: an introduction to the Hull Grundy gift to the British Museum, 421
—A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, 421
—Sri Lanka and Thailand, A visit to, 191
Taiwan's jade, Characterization of two samples of, 153
TAKAGI (K.), et al., Growth striae in single crystals of gadolinium gallium garnet grown by automatic diameter control, 56
TAKASU (S.), Synthetic gemstones, principles and methods, 414
TAKENOUCHI (S.), Basic knowledge on studies of fluid inclusions in minerals, 483
TAKUBA (H.),et al., Specific gravity, refractive indices and depth of formation of natural emeralds, 413
TAKUBO (J.), Refractive indices and specific gravities of beryls, 413
TALATI (D. J.), Copper bearing aventurine zeolite: an occurrence in India, 186
TAN (L. P.), et al., A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, 549
Tanzania, An attempt to establish a colour range for garnet from the Umba Valley, 278
—Bluish-green zoisite from Merelani in, 481, 512
—and Kenya, Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some emerald, tanzanite, tsavorite and ruby mines in, 124
—and Kenya, Transparent blue-green kornerupines from, 208, 455
—Rubies from Longido, 132
—Studies of a gem garnet suite from the Umba River, 161
—tourmaline from, and beryl from Brazil: Crystals with exceptional inclusions, 135
—Transparent cuttable light yellow to brown enstatites from, 198
Tanzanite, emerald, tsavorite and ruby mines in Tanzania and Kenya, Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some, 124
TARAN (M. N.), et al., The colour of gem spinels from the Kukhilal deposit, 408
TATSUMI (T.), on the refractive and reflective indices in identifying a gemstone, 414
TAXER (K. J.), et al., The crystal structure of rhodizite, 484
TAYLOR (G.), et al., Finger rings from ancient Egypt to the present day, 421
Tears of the Heliades, The, 475
Tell-tale inclusions in a phenakite from Brazil, 357
TENNYSON (C.), The elegant structure of tourmaline, 549
—Framework of chains and layers, 279
TEREKHOVA (V. M.), et al., On the orgin of natural sapphire color, 479
TERRILL (B.), Field trips in the Baltimore, Maryland, area, 56
Test of the Ceres diamond probe, A, 478
Thailand 1978, Report from, 516
—Ruby from Chanthaburi, 484
—Sri Lanka and Taiwan, A Visit to, 191
That looks interesting, let's put it under the microscope, 279
Third type of citrine colour of natural quartz, The, 481
Thomas Range, Utah, U.S.A., 274
Thomsonite, 56
THORSSON (H.), The Zeiss slit lamp microscope, 279
TIEN (P.-L.), et al., A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, 549
Tiger-eye deposits, The Ord Range, 199
TILLANDER (H.), Another brief look at the Sancy diamond, 221
TOMBS (G. A.), Heat treatment of Australian blue sapphire, 414
Topaz according to the data on microinclusions, Genesis of, 478
—and associated minerals of Topaz Mountain, Utah, A field guide to, 419
—by gamma irradiation, The colouration of Mt Surprise, 547
—The chromium absorption spectrum in, 206
—Colour investigation of, 206, 278
—crystals from Ouro Preto, Minas Gerais, Brazil, Orange-coloured, 206 —determined as danburite, 271
—The diagnostic inclusions of beryl and, 135
—from Pakistan, Purple, 206

—from Pakistan, Violet-coloured, 278
—A new 'Lady' is born, 198
—quartz and beryl, Irradiation colours in, 205
Topazes, Chrome-containing violet and orange-coloured, a comparison, 134
—Colour, causes of colour and colour changes in, 277
—and their identification, Treated yellow and red-brown, 134
TÖRÖK (T.), et al., Analytical emission spectroscopy, 488
Torpedos and cat's-eyes, 545
Total of 173 diamonds so far in CRA's Australian strike, 413
Tour of mineral sites in Eastern Europe, 479
TOURAY (J.-C.), et al., Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in quartz and dolomite from the evaporitic Trias of northern Tunisia, 479
Tourmaline according to Mössbauer spectroscopic data, Distribution of iron ions in the structure of, 474
—Anjanabonoina, home of the finest, 549
—country of southern California, The, 549
—The elegant structure of, 549
—Evidence for absorption by exchange-coupled Fe^2-Fe^3 pairs in the near infrared spectra of minerals, 483
—from Pala, California, Origin of 477
—from Tanzania and beryl from Brazil, Crystals with exceptional inclusions, 135
—group, Liddicoatite a new calcium end-member of the, 273
—Inclusions in, 546
—No country for, 544
—nomenclature, Towards an East African, 207
—of the Pala Valley, San Diego County, California, U.S.A., 290
—One hires an ass . . . , 547
—and opal; birthstones for October, 411
—A reassessment of the role of iron in the 5000-30 000cm^{-1} region of the electronic absorption spectra of, 482
—species from Madagascar, Liddicoatite, a new gem, 172
—and their nomenclature, East African, 310
—Torpedos and cat's-eyes, 545
—watermelons and niggerheads, 542
Toward a theory of the prediction of bedrock diamond potential, 477
Towards an East African tourmaline nomenclature, 207
Transition elements, General characteristics of, 473
Transparent blue-red changing corundum from Columbia, 408
Transparent bluish-green kornerupine from East Africa (Kenya and Tanzania), 455
Transparent cuttable Hauynite from the Eifel, 198
Transparent cuttable light yellow to brown enstatites from Tanzania, 198
Transparent pink bustamite from Australia, 543
Trapped in a gemstone, 418
Treated yellow and red-brown topazes and their identification, 134
TRUEBE (H. A.), Lapis lazuli in the Italian Mountain area of Colorado, 56
TROSSARELLI (C.), Comparison between natural, Verneuil and a new flux-melt-grown ruby, 209
—The polariscope-conoscope, 136
TSAI (H.-M.), et al., Nature and significance of mineral inclusions in natural diamonds, 409
Tsavolite, 554
Tsavorite, emerald, tanzanite and ruby mines in Tanzania and Kenya, Geological, petrographic and mineralogical notes on some, 124
TSINOBER (L. I.), et al., Electron microscopy of cristobalite-tridymite opal, 542
—et al., The third type of citrine colour of natural quartz, 481
TSONG (I. S. T.), et al., Hydrogen impurity in natural gem diamond, 203
TSUI (P.-C.), et al., A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, 549
Tsumeb, 137
TUCCILLO (R.), et al., Contribution to the gemological analyses of Argentine fluorite, 202
Tugtupite, The twin formation of; a contribution, 412
Tunisia, Hypersaline fluid and gaseous inclusions in quartz and dolomite from the evaporitic Trias of northern, 479
Turquoise, A critical examination of synthetic, 136
—deposits of Nishabur (N.E. Iran), On the, 205
—the gem of the centuries, 57
—in New Mexico, 414
—-like mixture of chalcedony and celadonite from Conejos County, Colorado, 132

—opal, etc.: The non-single-crystal synthetics, 55
—stone of Heaven, 205
Twin formation of tugtupite; a contribution, The, 412
Twinning in minerals, 199
Two new gemstones from the United States, 546
Two new mineral speciments enter the New York Market, 542
Two-fold hardness, origin and working of kyanite, 129
Typical inclusions in aquamarine and emerald, 274

U.K., Blue John, Derbyshire's unique gem, 545
—Geological setting of the nodules at Dulcote, Somerset, 77
—Macroscopic inclusions of fluid in British fluorites from the mineral collection of the British Museum (Natural History), 480
—Manual of mineralogy of Great Britain and Ireland, 138
—and Scandinavia, Sources of single crystals in the, 281
U.S.A., Adventures with Virgin Valley opals, 203
—Arizona: heartland of gems, 55
—Benitoite from California, 470
—The best of San Diego County, 275
—California jade; a collection of reprints, 127
—Diamond discovered along Colorado-Wyoming border, 200
—Diopside 'jade' from the Eel River, Mendocino County, California, 485
—A field guide to topaz and associated minerals of Topaz Mountain, Utah, 419
—Field trips in the Baltimore, Maryland, area, 56
—Gems and minerals of Washington; a collectors reference, 551
—The Headley Museum, Lexington, Kentucky, 486
—The Himalaya dike system, Mesa Grande district, San Diego County, California, 273
—Hunting the hexagons: in search of Georgia beryl, 203
—Hyalite from the Spruce Pine district, North Carolina, 549
—Lapis lazuli in the Italian Mountain area of Colorado, 56
—Mineral collector's guide, Connecticut, 491
—Mineral and gem localities of Arizona, 418
—Mineralization of the Four Peaks amethyst deposit, Maricopa County, Arizona, 411
—Mineralogy of Arizona, 137
—Minerals of the St. Lawrence Valley, 419
—Minerals of Washington, 551
—The Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County, 275
—Odell diamonds, barite crystals from Gage County, Nebraska, 276
—Origin of tourmaline from Pala, California, 477
—Peridot, state gem of Arizona, 132
—Red striation in willemite from Franklin Furnace, New Jersey, 545
—Regency emerald: a new synthetic from the, 463
—Roadside geology of northern California, 415
—Roadside geology of the northern Rockies, 415
—Rose quartz of the Black Hills, 55
—Sodium-beryllium-bearing cordierite from Haddam, Connecticut, 480
—Thomas Range, Utah, 274
—The tourmaline country of southern California, 549
—The tourmalines of the Pala Valley, San Diego County, California, 290
—Transparent blue-red changing corundum from Columbia, 408
—Turquoise in New Mexico, 414
—A turquoise-like mixture of chalcedony and celadonite from Conegos County, Colorado, 132
—Two new gemstones from the, 546
—Two new mineral specimens enter the New York market, 542
U.S.S.R., Andalusite in granite pegmatites of the Kola peninsula, 136
—The colour of gem spinels from the Kukhilal deposit, 408
—Diamond and the, 482
—Jasper minerals in the, 415
—The nature and colour of a new alkali calcium silicate from eastern Transbaikal, 205
—New minerals in Siberia and the Soviet Far East, 484
—On demantoid from the Urals and its colour, 548
—Russian minerals, 277
UDALOV (J. P.), et al., Absorption and luminescence spectra of Nd^{3+} and Er^{3+} ions in monocrystals of $CaYAlO_4$, 131
Unakite, 55
Unique green quartz, A, 133

VACHER (A.), Study of the strangulation process of intracrystalline cavities, 484
—Summary study of tubular cavities in aquamarines, 57
VALARELLI (S. V.), et al., Rare-element minerals from the pegmatite district of São João del Rei, Minas Gerais, 473
Valley of rubies, In the, 130
Vanadium III as a colouring agent in natural silicates and oxides—a contribution to the crystal chemistry of vanadium, 280
VAN DEN BERGE (G.), Spectroscopy, 209
VAN LANDUYT (J.), et al., Diffraction and imaging techniques in material science, 486
VARGAS (G.), VARGAS (M.), Faceting for amateurs, 141
VARSHAVSKII (A. V.), Stacking faults in natural diamonds, 209
VASIL'EV (V. I.), et al., New minerals in Siberia and the Soviet Far East, 484
VAUGHAN (D. J.), et al., Mineral chemistry of metal sufides, 421
Väyrynenite crystals in 'Pakistan', An occurrence of, 411
VEIS (M. E.), et al., Quantitative evaluation of the colour characteristics of natural emeralds, 476
Venezuela, Diamonds from Guaniamo 471
VERGNOUX (A. M.), Documentation on synthetic crystals, Belgium, Spain, France, Italy, 215
Vienna Natural History Museum, 149
VILLEDIEU (M.), et al., A study of valency changes of vanadium ions in Al_2O_3 by γ-irradiation, 136
Visit to Sri Lanka, Taiwan and Thailand, A, 191
Visual optics, 301
VLADYKIN (N. V.), et al., Genesis of topaz according to the data on micro-inclusions, 478
VOGT (H.-H.), Not only amethyst comes from the paradise gemstones, Brazil, 209
VOILEAU (A.), Minerals from Namibia, South West Africa, 484
—Thailand. Ruby from Chanthaburi, 484
VOLLSTÄDT (H.), et al., Native gemstones, 142
VOLOSHIN (A. V.), et al., Andalusite in granite pegmatites of the Kola peninsula, 136
WACHSEN (G.), White opal from the Fichtel mountains, 484
—et al., Pearls from the Fichtelgebirge, 483
WADIA (M. D.N.), Minerals of India, 421
WANKLYN (B. M. R.), Sources of single crystals in the United Kingdom and Scandinavia, 281
WATANABE (K.), et al., Growth of corundum single crystals from Na_3AlF_6-$_xLi_3AlF_6$ system fluxes, 210
Water as a gemmological tool, 275
Water as a gemmological tool, Comment on, 412
Water melon diamonds, 474
Water on gems, The contact angle of, 276
Watermelons and niggerheads, 542
WEBER (R. H.), Turquoise in New Mexico, 414
WEBSTER (B.), Mineral collector's field guide, 491
WEIBEL (M.), et al., The structure of stars, 130
WEIDLICH (J. E.), et al., Diopside 'jade' from the Eel River, Mendocino County, California, 485
WEININGER (H.), A notable scheelite discovery in the Rauris, Salzburg, 210
WELBOURN (C. M.), et al., EPR studies of irradiated diamonds, 204
WENINGER (H.), The alpine cleft-minerals of the eastern Alps of Austria, 57
—Mineral sources, Styria and Carinthia, Austria, 143
WERDING (G.), et al., Synthesis and crystal chemistry of kornerupine, 485
WESSICKEN (R.), et al., The structure of stars, 130
Where you can find green stones. Two European emerald locations, 207
Wherein crystals contest with each other—mineral hardness, 204
White opal from the Fichtel mountains, 484
WILK (H.), et al., Magic world of minerals, 488
WILKE (H.-J.), Mineral sources, Scandinavia, 143
WILKS (E. M.), Optical methods to select diamonds of very high lattice perfection, 485
—Remarks on the classification of natural polycrystalline diamond, 550
Willemite from Franklin Furnace, New Jersey, U.S.A., Red striations in, 545
WILLIAMS (J. D.), et al., A critical examination of synthetic turquoise,

136
WILLIAMS (R.), et al., The Jeffrey Mine, Asbestos, Quebec, 545
WILLIAMS (S. A.), et al., Mineralogy of Arizona, 137
WILSON (A. F.), The refractory metamorphic gemstones of Australia, 485
WILSON (M. M.), Brazil, paradise of gems, 210
WILSON (W. E.), et al., Hydroxyl-herderite from Brazil and a guide to species nomenclature for the herderite/hydroxyl-herderite series, 545
—The Kalahari manganese field, 414
WISE (W. S.), et al., Minerals of the benitoite gem mine, 279
WOLFE (C. W.), et al., Hydroxyl-herderite from Brazil and a guide to species nomenclature for the herderite/hydroxyl-herderite series, 545
WOOD (J. D. C.), An insight into crystal growth techniques, 11
WOOD (M. M.), et al., Diopside 'jade' from the Eel River, Mendocino County, California, 485
WOOLLEY (A.), The illustrated encyclopedia of the mineral kingdom, 281
Wonders of the mineral kingdom, 420
World map of gemstone deposits: explanatory note, 208
WRIGHT (P.), Doubt thrown on tests of diamond pedigrees, 279
X-ray topography and EPMA studies of synthetic quartz, 475
X-ray transmission (x-radiography), Identification of gemstones by means of, 409

YAG gemstone, On the light dispersion by faceted, 198
YAG, Optical absorption spectra of iron (III) and chromium (III) doped in synthetic yttrium-aluminium garnet, 209
YAKOVLEVA (M. E.), et al., Jasper minerals in the U.S.S.R., 415
YAKUBOVA (S. A.), et al., Columnar mechanism of growth of natural diamond crystals of cubic habit, 131
Yellow amber—a biological rock, 472
Yellow cuttable scapolite with high RI and double refraction from East Africa, 271
YOGEV (G.), Diamonds and coral, 491
YOUNG (B. R.), et al., An attempt to establish a colour range for garnet from the Umba Valley, Tanzania, 278
—et al., Studies of a gem garnet suite from the Umba River, Tanzania, 161
YU (R. M.), Gemmological colorimetry, 259
—On colour, 121
—et al., The air-boundary refractometer, 521
YUI (T.-F.), et al., A mineralogical study of the Fengtien nephrite deposits of Hualien, Taiwan, 549

Zaire, Diamond occurrences along the Kwango River in Angola and, 472
Zeiss slit lamp microscope, The, 279
ZEITNER (J. C.), The big sky sapphire, 485
—The gem investment boom, 485
—Sri Lanka, isle of gems, 485
Zektzerite, 91
Zeolite, Copper bearing aventurine: an occurrence in India, 186
Zircon from Vicentino, 200
—an interesting stone, 130
—oxides, Cubic stabilized, 200
Zirconia, Coloured, 258
—Cubic, 413
—Cubic, the latest diamond imitation and skull melting, 133
—Distinguishing diamond from cubic, 548
—How to feel the difference between a diamond and a, 542
—rare-earth oxide crystals, Growth from skull-melting of, 276
—Synthetic, 463
—Synthetic cubic stabilized, 476
Zirconias, Cubic stabilized, 244
Zircons, The diagnosis of, 279
—and niobates according to x-ray absorption spectra, Metamict transformations in some, 199
Zoisite from Merelani in Tanzania, Bluish-green, 481, 512
Zonal distribution of impurities in diamond, 544
Zoning in ruby, 235
ZUCKER (B.), How to invest in gems, 142
—et al., Rock-forming minerals, 487
ZWAAN (P. C.), More data on violet gem scapolite, probably from Eastern Africa, 448
—et al., Cordierite cat's-eye, probably from India, 210